Foreword.

Business and so forth has interfered
With your long promised visit to me,
To the school to which I <sup>feel</sup> am endeared,
And which I've desired you to see.

But when you within these pages step,
You can look the matter up,
That De Pauw is a good old school of rep,
And was big when U.I. was a pup.

Herein you'll find achievements great
In all branches of school life
Of Betas, ever highest in rate;
Who win in Fraternity strife.

Within these Classic Halls I saw
Memoirs of men, at the Nation's Helm,
Who got their learnin' at De Pauw,
And who now are best in the Realm.

Here the Muse of Knowledge reigns
And not the Rah-Rah men.
Here, Scholars are not held in disdain.
We respect the Book and Pen.

So when you thru these pages look,
Think not of the tinsel and gold,
That make up other Year Books;
But see De Pauw, with traditions of old.

- Edgar A. Pol et al, '17.

To two of the Best,
Uncle Mack and Aunt Em,

The Mirage In a Nutshell

The Mirage contains three hundred four pages.

There are fifty-one thousand one hundred sixty words between the covers.

Two hundred and eighty-two cuts and etchings can be found between the covers and pictures of some five hundred and seventy-five different individuals are shown.

In the publication of six hundred forty copies of the Mirage the following materials are used:

15 pounds of black ink.

5 pounds of gold ink.

640 sheets of gold leaf, 3x5.

2100 pounds of paper.

105 yards of cloth in cover.

165 pounds of Press Board.

50 yards of head band.

3200 pieces of Watered Silk Linen.

Unique Facts About Gymnasium

Did you ever stop to think just how much stuff it took to build a gymnasium?

Here are some selected items:

Seven hundred cubic feet of concrete.

Two thousand four hundred and fifty cubic feet of excavation.

Forty-five men daily employed.

Nineteen thousand and fifty square feet of cement floor.

One million, five hundred thousand common bricks and eight hundred thousand face bricks.

Ten thousand square yards of plastering.

One thousand cubic feet of stone.

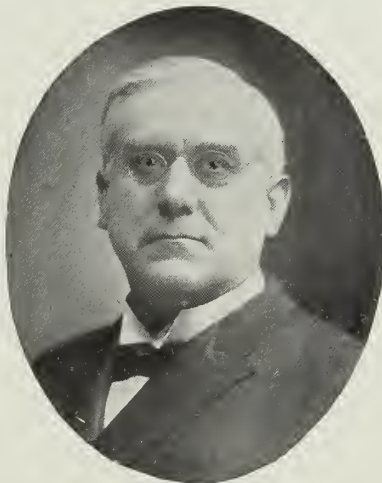

And about the swimmin' hole:

One hundred thousand gallons of water fills it.

The water is changed every ten or eleventh day.

It costs $12.00 to fill the pool.

On account of the unusual quality and purity of the water no chemicals have been used.

MIRAGE

ROBERT HAPP '19

Henry "Hank" Rowan

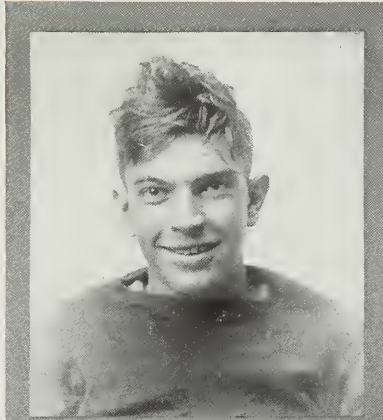

"HANK" Rowan went to school somewhere in Massachusetts — twice getting the opportunity of meeting Charles Brickley on the gridiron. Perhaps that was where "Hank" got his pigskin schooling. He is now fanning the blazes for the United Steel Corporation at Gary.

"The best half back in the State"

"WINNIE" DENTON, Guard.

Winnie's hard work in practice and his regularity in attendance won him a place on the team. Denton was one of the three on the squad who was given one hundred percent for attendance.

"SKEET" WOODRUFF, End.

Altho Skeet was out part of the season with a bad ankle he was picked for the second year as all-state end. He was a steady player and a sure wall for the opposing interference

"JACK" FOOTE, Half-back.

Jack filled Tommy's shoes clear to the top and was unequalled for his grit. He gained the name of a furious defensive and offensive man along with his qualities as a leader.

"BILL" TWAY, Center and Guard.

"Big Bill" was a mountain, the kind that you can't run over nor around. In spite of his weight, he downed the runner in the kick-off in the Butler game.

"ARTIE" DUNN, Tackle.

Artie's smashing play and tackle-around plays earned him a place on Hez Clark's All-State eleven. He played from start to finish and was noted for his hard tackling and his defensive ability.

"CUSHIE" CUSHMAN,

End, Half-back.

Cushie played a part of every game and won favor by his hard work. The fact that he played four positions equally well in the Butler game is proof of his cool head and skill.

"RUNT" NORTHWAY, Tackle.

"Runt" was a consistent worker and always stopped the charges of the opposing backs with unvarying regularity. Six feet tall, and every inch nerve and muscle.

"JIMMIE" HOUSE, Half-back.

"Jimmie's" speed strengthened the back field and he was always good for an end run. He finished his career as a wearer of the Old Gold mole skins last fall.

"DUTCH" BAUMUNK, Guard.

Baumunk was a yearling but he played like a tiger and put up a slashing game. With three years before him, he promises to be a star lineman for De-Pauw.

"DAVE" MORRISON, Guard.

Dave could always fill the bill at guard and he fought like a fiend. Dave was a hard hitter with grit written all over his face.

"SIX" PENCE,

Half-back, Quarter-back.

"Six" was a brainy general and a sure open field tackler. He could always be depended upon for that last yard and at picking holes in the opponent's line, he was unequalled.

"LYNCHIE" LYNCH, Guard.

Lynch, the big Missourian, showed real football in his first year on the varsity and promises to be a star for De-Pauw in the next three years.

MACK WYLIE, End.

Mack always took his interference in clean style and his nerve made up for his light weight. He tipped the scales at 138, but he handled it skillfully and centered every pound of it.

"MEADY" ANDERSON, Half-back.

Meady was fast and brim full of nerve. He played a part of every game this season and was a fighter from the word "go."

"PIP" MEREDITH, Center.

Pip always played a scrappy and steady game. He invariably has a word of encouragement for his teammates and was the first man to pick a runner up after a scrimmage.

The Greater Victory

PERHAPS the less said about the Wabash game the better. But in an article of this character it would be side-stepping the paramount issue not to make some mention of the participating teams. Wabash had the superior team by two or three touchdowns. The DePauw team knew it. They played as if they did. The only way that the 34 can be accounted for is that behind every team is a powerful "team psychology" that is baffling the coach of today and will offer a problem for the thinking sportsman of tomorrow just as "crowd psychology" has baffled the leading thinkers of yesterday and today and is still an unsolved dilemma of the thinking leaders of tomorrow. But Time always makes the more important things stand out after its winds have blown away the darker clouds of gloom. The most conspicuous of these golden revelations is probably the greater victory of the Wabash and DePauw student bodies. All Indianapolis was impressed by the quality of college spirit manifested by DePauw men and especially by DePauw women, in the down town parade. All Wabash was impressed with the way she accepted defeat. All DePauw was surprised, disappointed and dumfounded at the clean, quiet, sportsmanlike manner in which Wabash draped Victory in their crimson blankets. Wabash and DePauw played a football game. Wabash won. But all the while the student bodies of both schools were fighting on the side of clean sportsmanship, and both won. The drygoods-box orator can tell who won the greater victory as soon as he proves that it is more difficult to be a true sport in a victory than it is in defeat or vice versa.

Coach Ralph Young

COACH Ralph Young is a quiet, clean sort of a man whose unusual coaching personality attracts men. He has a whole hat full of records in track, basketball and football that he made at Chicago and Washington and Lee. Coach Young has been a hotel manager, an aluminum agent and often spends his summers pushing an irish baby-buggy full of concrete.

"A team that won't be licked can't be licked!"

"Ikey" Meyers

I VAN "Ikey" Meyers, "the best DePauw athlete since Lightbody," is a quiet, unassuming little fellow who runs continually. Ikey, like a true athlete, never talks of his achievements. He lives in the northern part of the state, somewhere around Lebanon and in the summer time twists crank shafts for automobiles.

"The best athlete DePauw ever turned out."

—Chicago Tribune

Some of Ikey's Records

Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association Meet.

June 5, 1915, at Shampaign, Illinois.

First—Mile run. Time—4:19 1-5.

Broke the Conference record for the mile formerly held by A. F. Baker, of Oberlin.

Central Athletic Association Union Meet.

July 3, 1915, at Chicago.

Second—Half Mile.

Third—Mile Run.

Panama-Pacific Athletic Association Union Champion

Meet, Aug. 7, 1915, at San Francisco, Cal.

Third—Mile Run.

New York Athletic Club Invitation Meet.

March 18, 1916, at New York.

Fourth—1,000 Yards.

Second—Illinois Athletic Club Relay Team—Medley Cup Race. Myers was one of the four members of the team.

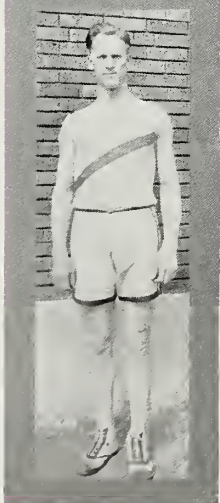

"SAL" ADAMS (quarter and two-twenty). Sal ran the hundred in ten flat last season and won the quarter at the I. C. A. L. The officials beat Sal in the Wabash meet.

"PAT" GUTHRIE made his fourth letter in the dashes last year. Pat had the old stride and a little hard luck along with it, but he came out all right.

ELMER NORRIS is a second Sampson when it comes to the discus and he is equally as good with the shot. Norris also has but little trouble holding his own in the century or 220 dashes in spite of his build.

"SKEET" WOODRUFF had little trouble taking first in the broad jump in the Wabash meet last May. "Skeet" weighs over 170, but he sure has the art of floating.

HAROLD JONES stuck to the hurdle until he won out. That's to his credit because he looks like a good one for 1916.

"ZIP" LEMASTERS pole vaults just like he was used to it said Nicholson. He not only has ease, but he also makes the required height. Zip puts the shot with some degree of satisfaction also.

"TOMMY" THOMAS equaled the I. C. A. L. high hurdle record at McKeen Field in the 1915 Wabash meet. He is a hard worker and possesses no small degree of speed.

CAPTAIN "JIMMY" HOUSE (hurdles and broad jump.) Jimmy was a reliable point winner in the low hurdles. He beat out Wabash for first place and scored at Hanover.

"COOKIE" COOK showed DePauw that he was not all high school record because he still had some of that pole vault "stuff" left in him. He can also step the 220 at a lively gait.

LOWELL NOLAND is the DePauw two-miler. He won his letter at Hanover last year and gives promise for an excellent season in 1916. Noland worked hard and steady.

"IKEY" MYERS (mile and half mile, Captain-elect.) Ikey took ten points in all of the secondary college meets and then broke into big company.

"DEE" DELAP won out thru hard work. He developed himself into a winning high jumper during his three years of conscientious effort. He is the mainstay in that line for 1916.

"STONEY" STONEX (pole vaults and hurdles.)
Stonex took points in every meet in spite of his bad hip. He was as fast and could take hurdles ahead of 'em.

"SPOT" LIGHT, altho held back by injuries during part of the season, came back to his old form and placed in the I. C. A. L. meet at Hanover. Spot was just as light as his name when it came to high jumping.

John P. Nicholson

JOHAN P. NICHOLSON, who turned out the best track team in 1915 that has represented DePauw University in many years, is now head of athletics at Seewanee Military Academy of Seewanee, Tennessee. Nicholson was captain of the Missouri University cinder squad in 1913 and was the largest individual point winner in every meet that year. He had the honor of tying the former world's record for the high hurdles, 15 1-5 seconds, at least four times during his last year in school. He high jumped 6 feet 1 3-4 inches; broad jumped 22 feet 10 inches and reported for the St. Louis Post Dispatch with the same speed.

1915 Track Results

May 8, 1915.

DePauw 66 2-3. Wabash 37 1-2.

Elmer Norris broke the I. C. A. L. discus throw by one foot, 7 inches, hurling the discus 114 feet, 10 inches.

Charles Thomas captured the high hurdles and equaled the record time of 15:4.

Myers and Norris were the individual stars of the meet, each taking three firsts.

I. C. A. L. Meet at Hanover. May 22, 1915.

DePauw 56 2-3.

Wabash 34 5-6.

Earlham 21 1-2.

Franklin 3.

State Normal 1.

Hanover 0.

DePauw won three firsts and five seconds out of 14 events.

State Meet at Lafayette, May 29, 1915.

Notre Dame, first.

Purdue, second.

DePauw, third.

Indiana, fourth.

Wabash, fifth.

Earlham, sixth.

Track Results

June 5—Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association Meet.

First—Wisconsin 38.

Second—Chicago 37.

Third—Missouri 21.

Fourth—Illinois 18.

Fifth—Notre Dame 9.

Sixth—DePauw 8.

Seventh—Northwestern 7.

Eighth—Purdue 4.

Ninth—Minnesota 4.

Ivan Myers was the only DePauw entrant and he broke the Conference record for the mile in the fast time of 4:19 1-5, besides taking a second in the half mile.

1915 Base Ball Squad

FIRST ROW: Coach Jack Grimm; Rex Rafferty, pitcher; Boyce Morrow, catcher; Willard Bridges, first base; Arthur Dunn, pitcher; Ford C. Frick, student athletic manager. MIDDLE ROW: G. W. McDonald, right field; Richard Denman, third base; Omar Ford, pitcher; Elery Mahaffey, left field. BOTTOM ROW: Fred Wright; Charley Pence, center field; Mascot; Roscoe Thieber, short stop; Harris, third base.

BASEBALL

ROBERT G. HARR, '19

"GASH" MORROW (captain-elect and catcher.)
Gash was as accurate as a rifle and was always there with the "peg." He had the old black bat that gave him the fattest average of the team.

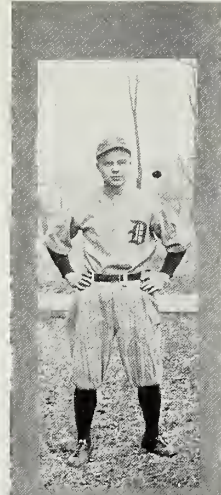

"JAY" FORD (pitcher.) Ford had the old south paw delivery which helped the Old Gold lead the league. He was a hard worker and he always was on deck for practice.

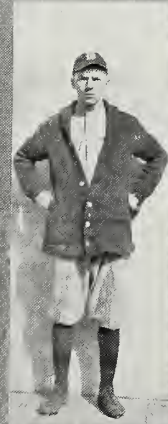

"SIX" PENCE. (center field.) Six played like he played football—fast and hard. He was a well in center field.

"RABBIT" THIEBERT, (short stop.) "Rabbit" covered the space between his bowed legs that was any place between second and third. He was a clever base runner and he used his head while at bat.

"DICK" DENMAN (third base.) Dick was a prep school recruit who showed himself worthy of a varsity berth in his first year.

"DOC" BRIDGES (first base.) Doc could take care of a five foot radius with little trouble. He was not so long that he couldn't scoop 'em up, too.

"BO" HARRIS (Third base.) Bo handled the ball just like he was used to it. Bo had a line that made things hot.

"MAC" MacDONALD (right field.) Mac worked hard and made the team by his regularity and ability. He was a second Billy Sunday, combining the ministry with base ball.

"REX" RAFFERTY (pitcher.) Rex pitched most of last year's games in "big nine" fashion. He had all kinds of stuff at his finger's end.

Captain “Doodle” Harris (second base)—
 “Doods” covered the second sack in fine style.
 He captained a winning team and showed himself to be a heady player.

“Irish” Mahaffey (left field)—“Irish” was a sure fielder and was right handy with the stick.

Tennis

THE 1915 DePauw Tennis Team composed of Brides, Gregg and Chandler in the singles and Carrol and Pilkenton in the doubles, closed an unsuccessful racquet season with a defeat at Hanover in the Indiana College Athletic League Track and Field Meet at Madison, Saturday, May 22, 1915. During the season they were defeated by Eaglesfield and Hibben of Wabash in both singles and doubles.

Tennis has always been a minor sport at De Pauw but with the approach of another season and the assurance of reliable talent in the Freshman class, the 1916 prospects look bright for the building of a new branch of a major sport.

The results of the single meet held at Greencastle, May 1, 1915, between Wabash and De Pauw are:

Eaglesfield defeated Bridges 6-1 and 6-2.

Hibben defeated Gregg in two straight sets.

Hibben and Eaglesfield defeated Pilkenton and Carrol after five sets, 4-6, 6-4, 2-6, 9-7 and 6-3.

Heber Ellis Manager

After leaving De Pauw, Hebe coached a year at St. Albans Military Academy, Knoxville, Ill., "did" the country as road contractor for three years, developed his "line" as furniture salesman for eight years and in 1913 became Graduate Manager of DePauw athletics. He was all-state third baseman for one year and all-western outfielder for three years. Hebe, a three letter man, coached 1916 base ball.

Richard A. Emison Student Manager

Dick chases fouls, hammers mud off of cleats and hustles towels for the boys. He gets to make all the trips with the team and Hebe lets him hold part of the money some of the time. Dick learned to be an all around handy man while chasing a hay-baler around the hills where Old Alice dwelt.

"D" Association

Any athlete who is awarded a "D" in any of DePauw's four recognized branches of athletics is thereby elected to membership in the "D" Association. There are no co-ed members—not yet—tho many wear the "D".

Phi Beta Kappa is an honorary scholastic fraternity, founded at Washington and Jefferson in 1776. Each year a limited number of the students of high scholastic rank in the Senior class are elected to the society.

Kappa Tau Kappa

Kappa Phi Omricon Alpha

TOP Row: Leslie Harris, Seaman E. Rossetter, Paul O. Meredith, Gerald D. Overmeyer, Don Sessions. MIDDLE Row: Willard Singleton, Charles Thomas, Elery Mahaffey, James M. Arthur. BOTTOM Row: John Jackson, Floyd Dix, Merrill Steele, Donald Parkin, Ray Orr.

Kappa Phi Omricon Alpha, "Skulls", is an honorary interfraternity composed of upperclassmen who are elected at the end of their Sophomore year. "Skull" plans to promote college spirit and to create more fellowship and cooperation between the various fraternities.

Sigma Delta Chi

TOP ROW: Seaman Rossetter, Kenneth Hogate, Preston Rudy.
SECOND ROW: Joe Billingsley, Mack Wylie, Clifford
Warner. THIRD ROW: Douglas Miller, Willard Singleton, Don Bridge, Ralph Williams, Bruce McIntosh.

Sigma Delta Chi, the national honorary journalistic fraternity, was founded in 1909, its Alpha chapter at DePauw. Here, the fraternity is the author of "The Yellow Crab" and its members take an active part in all college publications of a journalistic nature.

Delta Nu Epsilon

Delta Nu Epsilon was formerly the Law Club and became the law fraternity in 1912. Delta Nu Epsilon seeks to create a greater friendship and thru cooperation benefit those who intend to study law.

Sigma Delta Psi

"Zip" LeMasters

Zaner R. LeMasters is the only DePauw man now in school who is a member of Sigma Delta Psi. Wilber Stonex is the other of the two members of this chapter.

"Zip" has taken part in a number of branches of athletics, putting in his best licks as a member of last year's track squad. Fifty DePauw men have qualified in one or more events but "Zip" and Stonex were the only two who qualified in all the requirements. On the campus one sees "Zip" either running or walking briskly and in summer time he plows corn and pulls weeds with the chickens.

Sigma Delta Psi is an honorary athletic fraternity founded at Indiana University in 1912, with the purpose of encouraging comprehensive physical development and training among college students. There are at present, chapters in fifteen colleges and universities in the country.

Delta Sigma Rho

Delta Sigma Rho was founded at the University of Chicago in 1906, here in 1913. The purpose of Delta Sigma Rho is to encourage effective and sincere public speaking. Its members are taken from those who have represented the school in an intercollegiate debate or oratorical contest.

THE DE-

ALL the news all the time--this is the standard of the DePauw Daily. When Miss Kemp, the President's secretary, reads something in the paper which is news to her, we'll all agree that the sheet is not running stale stuff. They say that this has happened.

Have you ever noticed the group of students who haunt rooms 1, Middle College, every school day at 1:30 p. m.! Of course you have, but perhaps you you failed to realize the responsibility which rests upon these students. They make up the Daily staff and—well the sheet just must be published!

You ought to happen around some time and peep in—it's funny. Today's issue editor, eyes wild and hair disheveled, howls for copy. Tomorrow's issue editor, eyes wilder and hair disheveled, wants to know "what's doin' tomorrow?"

"Bill"

Mack, Skinny and Don.

"Skinny", editor-in-chief, sits at the desk with the waste basket at a convenient angle and broods over today's editorial while red-hot copy accumulates about him. "Mack", managing editor, "dates 'em up" in advance in his big book.

Belated reporters happen in at all moments with their pittance of the day's news. When Miss Horner and "Bill", the two girl reporters, arrive at the last moment with their stories about Y. W. and the Women's Self-Government Association, every masculine head is bared in deference to the 'female of the species,' and "Skinny" takes his feet off the table.

PAUW DAILY

standards and a reputation all its own. It publishes no advertisements of liquor, tobacco, or patent medicine, thereby incurring a considerable financial loss. It is not backed financially by the University, and yet it enjoys the enviable distinction of being the only daily in the country published by a school no larger than DePauw. It is entirely self-supporting, thru subscriptions and advertising, and is therefore independent. Its reliability is recognized by the fact that the publicity committee mails it every day to some sixty high schools thruout the state.

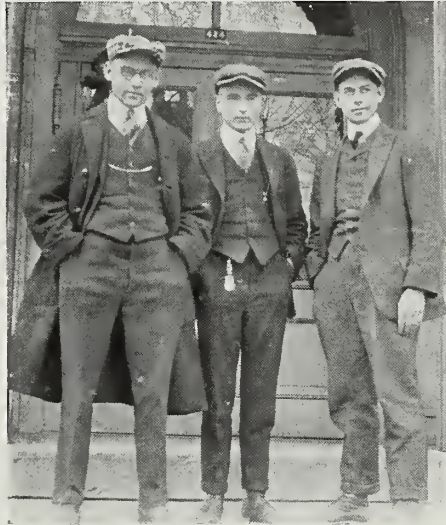

—Sam Purdue

Did you ever hear about the time when Don, our business manager, sauntered into staff meeting while the presence of the ladies was still a novelty, and slamming one small book down upon the table observed, "Here you are with your dammed editorial staff."

"Let's go down, Mack," says "Skinny" at about 2:00 o'clock. Laden with copy they go down town to the Herald office where the Daily is printed, and write heads all afternoon.

The DePauw Daily has

Don, Mack and Skinny.

Are you disappointed in the Mirage's cover?

We were a bit—at first. We are going to lay it on to the Germans—the binder man did. He said that a cover similar to the one used on the 1915 book would cost now at least two hundred dollars more than it did last year. Seems that the Germans have a whole hand in the cowhide market. Same binder man also added that he would not guarantee any color but blue. He showed us one color that we could see turning while we looked at it. So we told him we would put our money in a triple gold rule, some more cuts and would pay a little closer attention to the make-up and general lay-out.

Were we wise?

The only psychology involved in a leather cover is to sell the book before it is opened and to make the purchaser open it after he has bought it. And you've done the whole thing without the leather-cover stimulus, haven't you?

Then we win!

In order that everyone might take his book home we have adopted a policy of forgetting all of our petty grudges, of forgetting that Otis drinks and smokes Campbells and that Alice smokes them, too, and have tried to tell only what Otis or Alice would tell if they were entertaining some friends with a few personal jokes. If we have hurt anyone's feelings it is because we didn't know the significance of some of these jokes ourselves. It occurs some times in the best of social circles

Oh, yes, we almost forgot the presentation speech. We have found that the whole problem in the publication of the Mirage involves three questions. What kind of a book can you put out with the money that you have? What kind of a book can you put out with the time that you have? What kind of a book can you put out with the experience that you have?

Oh, if we only had another chance!

Festivities

DePauw's May Day

MAY Day is the only day in the year when the co-ed reigns supreme on the DePauw campus. The program for 1915 was the best ever given. The day's celebration began at eight o'clock with breakfast on the campus — a feature which proved so satisfactory the year before. Long lines of people passed by the tables and received the baskets supplied by the committee, then gathered in groups under the trees to enjoy the lunch, while the University Band gave a concert.

At nine-thirty the tennis tournaments began. A large number of students and visitors gathered at the courts to witness the matches.

The afternoon exercises began at three o'clock, when the girls of the various classes, under the direction of Miss Kathryn Kingsley, gave their different dances on the campus. The freshmen girls were divided into two sections, the first giving a bar drill, and the second a butterfly dance known as La Santerelle. La Tarantella, the aesthetic dance given by the sophomores, was followed by The Dance of the Jumping Jacks, given by the juniors. This was done in blue and white clown costume, and was unique.

Following this dance, the seniors, in cap and gown, gave the stately May Pole dance, winding and unwinding the ribbons of their class colors. These exercises ended with the awarding of the trophy cup to the freshmen.

All went in a body to McKeen Field, where DePauw defeated Rose Poly in a close, snappy baseball game.

The customary lantern parade was held on the campus in the evening, under the direction of Miss Lelah Egnew. With college spirit and pep running high, several hundred girls, bearing flickering lanterns and singing college songs, wove fantastic figures on the campus walks.

After the parade all assembled on the south campus about a stage beautifully decorated with green branches, to enjoy "The Flower Garden," a cantata by the Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Martha G. Degner.

Old Gold Day

NOVEMBER 13, 1915, will long be remembered by all whose hearts quicken at the mention of DePauw. It was Old Gold Day, the great festive occasion when DePauw spirit culminates.

The eighth annual celebration was conceded by all to be the best ever. Old grads and friends of the institution thronged the campus. The crisp frosty air of that beautiful fall day seemed fairly to snap with an electric thrill of loyalty to the Old Gold.

Festivities began with a rousing chapel. Class spirit ran high. Dr. H. A. Gobin, discussed "The Significance of Old Gold Day," and Charles Jewett, '07, speaking in behalf of the alumni, expressed undying loyalty to DePauw. The Ukulele Club (an innovation) played a popular program.

Following chapel the University Band led a march to McKeen Field where the junior and senior football teams clashed and the men of the freshman and sophomore classes fought in their annual color rush. The seniors defeated their rivals (for football honors) by a score of 25-0. The sophomores won in the underclassman scrap after a hard-fought battle lasting twenty minutes, the full time allotted for the freshmen to tear down their opponents' colors from a twelve-foot pole. The second year men maintained such a vigorous defence of the pole that the onslaughts of the freshmen were ineffective.

The Color Raising at the flag-pole on the campus just before noon completed the morning exercises. With the the Old Gold pennant ascending to its place at the top of the mast, Frank A. King, president of the student body, made a short talk, welcoming the freshmen into DePauw life. Then Ray Orr, president of the senior class, spoke, followed by the presidents of the other three classes, Robert Woodruff, Perry Leash, and Volney Fowler.

The respective class colors were raised to their positions beneath the Old Gold banner.

Football with Rose Poly, took up the afternoon, with a curtain-raiser game between the two under classes, in which the sophomores were again victorious, the score being 21-6. DePauw defeated Rose Poly, 14-6. A feature of the game was a ninety-five yard run by Captain "Hank" Rowan.

Vaudeville performance reflecting DePauw life made up the evening program. Six sororities and three fraternities gave "stunts." To accommodate the many visitors it was necessary to give the entertainment in two halls—Meharry Hall and the West College Auditorium. Following is the program which delighted both audiences until almost midnight:

"The Gypsy Trail"	Alpha Phi
"The Midnight Marauders or Somebody's Always Tak- ing the Joy Out of Life."	Phi Gamma Delta
"A Glimp in an Art Gallery"	Delta Zeta
"The Bazaar Extraordinaire"	Delta Delta Delta
"DePauw Life"	Kappa Tau Kappa

Founder's and Benefactor's Day and Gym Dedication

DEPAUW has many big days, but the dedication of the new $125,000 Bishop Thomas Bowman Memorial Gymnasium, on March 8, 1916, was an epoch-making occasion.

A march from East College to the gymnasium began the exercises. The drum corps led, then followed the seniors in caps and gowns, then the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, flaunting their class colors. Faculty, alumni, and visitors marched at the rear of the column.

Governor Samuel M. Ralston presided over the morning exercises, and the principle address was given by President William Oxley Thompson, of Ohio State University.

The Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks presided over the afternoon exercises in the same auditorium. The other speakers were Charles H. Barnaby, chairman of the Building Committee. The Hon. Hugh Dougherty, president of the Board of Trustees, and Bishop William Fraser McDowell who gave the dedicatory address. The building was formally accepted when Mr. Barnaby presented the keys to the president of the Board of Trustees.

President George Richmond Grose announced that the Christian Association room would be named Dougherty Hall, in honor of Hugh Dougherty; that the Social Room was dedicated to Mrs. E. B. Evans, of Greencastle, who had contributed generously to the building fund; that the Gymnasium proper was dedicated to Bishop Thomas Bowman.

At eight o'clock in the evening the doors were thrown open to the public. All were invited to come and inspect the new gym while the University Choir and Orchestra furnished music in the large auditorium.

Following the establishment of the custom last year, DePauw again held the Educational system of Debates with Indiana University, which allow more men to secure forensic training, and which permit a greater number of pleased audiences thruout the state to hear the discussions.

The Indiana State Oratorical

WILLIAM A. STUCKEY, '16, represented DePauw in the State Oratorical Contest, held at the Central Avenue Christian Church in Indianapolis, February 25. This was his second State Oratorical, since he represented DePauw in the same contest last year. "The Human Personality and Justice" was the subject of his oration.

Mr. Stuckey has taken an active part in oratory and dramatics on the DePauw campus. He is a member of Duzer Du, the dramatic club, and has taken leading roles in several of the plays staged by that organization. He played the part of the minister in this year's highly successful performance of "The Servant In The House."

Peace and Prohibition Oratorical Contests

JEFFERSON N. SIMMONS, '16, represented DePauw in the State Peace Oratorical Contest held at Bloomington, April 7. The subject of his manuscript was "Coöperation and Peace." Mr. Simmons also represented his school in the State Prohibition Contest held April 29 at DePauw. His subject was, "The Method of Handling the Saloon."

A feature of Mr. Simmons' oration was the solution he advanced for the liquor problem. The proper program, as he outlined it, was to vote the saloons out with the understanding that they would be run by the state if they ever came back. The possibility of individual profits being thus eliminated, he insisted that there would be no fight to bring the saloons back.

Mrs. Lucy Black

"IT IS wonderful what Mrs. Black does over there at the dorm," said a prominent member of the faculty. He was right, of course, because it requires no small amount of business ability to manage a place where some two hundred people take their meals. In spite of the low price paid for board, students and faculty alike who take their meals there are delighted with the food. A few cronic kickers, perhaps, complain of "dorm grub," but that's to be expected—of them.

Mrs. Lucy Black, Superintendent of Halls, has been with DePauw University for seventeen years. Did you ever talk with an "old grad" dorm girl? "Is Mrs. Black still there?" she asks, and then, reminescently, she tells of what a place Mrs. Black held in the heart of the co-ed. "When anything was wrong we always went to her," says the old grad, "for she was like a mother to us."

Not only girls have felt the influence of her mother-heart. The timorous freshmen who comes to school looking for work is directed to the dorm, and there he meets Mrs. Black. He realizes by her pleasant smile and hand-shake that he has a friend, for no one is a stranger to her. "I love to watch my 'boys' develop," Mrs. Black has said. They "develop" all right, because four years at the dorm is a liberal education in itself. She keeps a box of pictures of her "boys," and almost all of them have "made good." One still writes back to her, "Dear mother" — because she is the only mother he ever knew.

In the new impetus that has been given to dramatics in DePauw, Duzer Du has played a leading role. This year the club presented "The Servant in the House" and the popularity of the play was proven by the demand for a second production on the campus. Duzer Du is the patron saint of the "Little Theater" in West College which was remodeled and equipped by proceeds of the plays given by Duzer Du.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

Ray and His Work

Ray Reitzel

RAYMOND J. Reitzel, General Secretary of the DePauw Y. M. C. A., was graduated from Cornell College, Iowa, in 1912. While he was in college he was President of the Y. M. C. A., twice a member of the Varsity Debating Team, Captain of varsity football and basket ball teams and a member of the baseball squad. He was twice all-state end and honorary captain.

He was Secretary of the city association at Sterling, Illinois, General Secretary of the University of Nebraska and has attended numerous summer conferences.

The whole activity of our association is under the direction of the General Secretary whose work is in the background, yet it is none the less felt. Up to March first he has had seventy-five interviews with college men, seventy personal calls, forty fraternity visits, twenty-one fraternity dinners, has been a factor in sixty-two student group meetings, attended sixty-three general student meetings and spoken at one-third as many. He leads weekly a bible class, a mission class and a Boy Scout patrol. He has filled thirteen out-of-town engagements and assisted in coaching DePauw athletics as well.

In addition to all this, Ray is a connoisseur of rooster meat. The boys claim that he can eat six thighs, seven wings, four gizzards and two pulley bones and still hold his own with the candied yams at one sitting.

WHY MEN COME TO DE PAUW

Dean Katharine Sprague Alvord

"I do believe in organized dancing. In fact, I do the Virginia reel occasionally myself. Just what are you trying to get me to say, Mr. Editor?"

A smile that was good to see—a smile seldom seen on the face of a dean of women—spread over her countenance and danced in her big, round eyes.

Born in Sandusky, Ohio, paying taxes in Connecticut and serving a sentence in Indiana, Miss Katharine Sprague Alvord, dean of women and assistant professor of History, hears more tales of the love-lorn than Beatrice Fairfax and executes her mandates most uncupidly sometimes.

Dean Alvord got her A. B. at the University of Michigan, and her A. M. in History and Sociology at Columbia University. Ten years of her service were punched as Professor in History at Oshkosh Normal, Oshkosh, Wisconsin. She was dean at Miami University for one year. Then she went to the University of Wisconsin for five years, studying girls and history. She spent one year at Cornell studying sectarianism in Ohio—then President Grose heard about her.

The most striking thing in the personality of Dean Alvord is her powerful and far-reaching humanness. Disappointed, homesick Freshmen find her rooms a refuge—find her sympathy an inspiration. By mail she consoles those who are home because of sickness or sadness. They say that her letters can never be forgotten. Certainly her everyday attitude would confirm the statement.

A Senior's Last Word

It was hanging in the future
     That golden Phi Bet key,
 When my college days were ended
     It would belong to me;
 All around were other honors
     That I might well have had,
 But I went on still boning
     With a method that was mad.
 I neglected other chances,
     For all that I could see
 Was Phi Beta Kappa just ahead—
     But it hung too high for me.

Oh friends, who come hereafter
     And walk the learned path,
 Look up and see the lesson
     In this my aftermath—
 'Tis better far to gather
     The honor as we go,
 Than fasten to a remote key
     And miss the big main show;
 And maybe some bright morning
     You shall wake up too
 And see that old key hanging
     Just too high for you.

—Gladys Moon

A Y. M. man of no mean ability.

The Date

You call her up by telephone
And ask her for a date;
You thank her then, and promise her
You'll be around at eight.

You look into your pocket-book,
Your joy is then intense,
You find that you have just enough—
The trusty forty cents.

You shine your shoes and brush your hair,
Look in the glass and holler,
You take a Jewish shave and then
Use art gum on your collar.

And when at last you are arrayed
To meet your lady fair,
You haste to where you know she is
And ask if she is there.

You take her to the Opera House
And end up at the Greeks,
To see what fellows have the girls
You've had on previous weeks.

You talk about the faculty
And praise the fair co-eds,
And then you take your girlie home
And rush for "eats" at Fred's.

“Th’ Doin’s uv th’ Sex.”

O, the sun is red on Lundy’s Hill,
And the evening shades are falling,
The night-birds cry in melody—
And the whippoorwill is calling;

And the air is cool and soothing,
With the dew upon the grass;
But it is no boon to Tim O’Roon—
Who’s quarreled with his lass!

The sky is black as night to him,
Like the eyes of his fair coleen,
And the air is hot as his burning thought,
For the heart of him is mean.

Tim says to me, “Faith, an’ I know
Th’ ways of min are queer,
Their souls are black as tamarack—
Of gods they have no fear;

“But the maidens wit’ th’ souls of white
Are more dang’rous than the male,
Sure, there’s hidden wile in iv’ry smile
To make a strong man frail.

“There’s no interpetin’ their ways
Nor tell what’s comin’ nex’,
No mortal man can understan’
Th’ doin’s of the sex!”

Sure, the moon is silver in the sky,
And Lundy’s grass is green,
But for Tim O’Roon there is no moon,
Nor beauty in her sheen.

The world’s all turned upside down
Old Luna’s made of brass—
And there is no joy for the Laddy-boy
Who’s quarreled with his lass!

PRESIDENT GEORGE R. GROSE

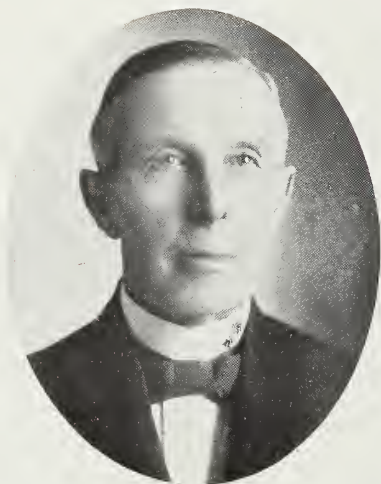

GEORGE RICHMOND GROSE, S. T. B., A. M., D. D.,
President

A. B., Ohio Wesleyan University, 1894; A. M., Ohio Wesleyan, 1896, S. T. B., Boston University, 1896; D. D., Ohio Wesleyan University, 1898; Lecturer, Johns Hopkins University, 1910-1913; President, DePauw University, 1913—

With his clear vision he framed the first definite plans for the new gym. When funds came slowly and many despaired, Prexy "took to the road" and returned with subscriptions which insured the building's completion. Now he proposes a $150,000 dormitory, a $100,000 administration building and a $500,000 increase in endowment. Few doubt his ability to accomplish these things for DePauw, for Prexy is a man who does.

HILLARY ASBURY GOBIN

A. M., D. D., LL. D.

Vice-President and Prof. of Biblical Science

A. B., DePauw University, 1870; A. M., DePauw University, 1873; D. D., DePauw University, 1880; Professor of Greek Language and Literature, DePauw University, 1880 - 1886; President, Baker University, 1886-1890; Dean, School of Theology, DePauw University; 1890-1896; President, DePauw University, 1895-1903; LL. D., Baker University, 1903; LL. D., DePauw University, 1909; Professor of Biblical Science, DePauw University, 1903—.

Flashes of Irish wit, loyalty to DePauw, sympathy, more wit—that's Dr. Gobin. He has won a place in the heart of every DePauw student.

EDWIN POST, Ph. D.

Dean of the College and George Manners Professor of the Latin Language and Literature

A. B. (Valedictorian), Dickinson, 1872, A. M., 1875, Ph. D., 1884. Student of Philology in the universities of Bonn and Berlin, 1886-1888; Instructor in Greek and Latin in Pennington Seminary, 1872-1877; Librarian of DePauw University, 1879-1896; Vice-President of DePauw University, 1895-1903; Professor on Latin, University of Chicago Summer Session, 1894; Professor of Latin, University of Wisconsin, Summer Session 1901; George Manners Professor of the Latin Language and Literature, DePauw University, 1879—

To those who really know him he is not only a capable instructor, but also a warm and sympathetic friend.

JAMES RILEY WEAVER, A. M., B. D.

Emeritus Professor and Lecturer in Political Science

A. B., Allegheny College, 1863; A. M., Allegheny College, 1866; S. T. B., Garrett Biblical Institute, 1867; Professor of Mathematics and Military Science, West Virginia University, 1867-1869; Consul at Brindis, Italy, 1869-1870; Consul at Antwerp, Belgium, 1871-1879; Consul General at Vienna, Austria, 1879-1885; Professor of Modern Languages and Literature, DePauw University, 1885-1886; Professor of Philosophy and Modern Languages, DePauw University, 1886-1890; Professor of History and Political Science, DePauw University, 1890-1893; Professor of Political Science, 1893—

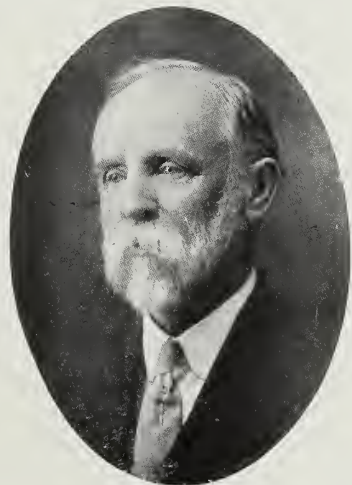

"The Colonel" is a lovable character, a man of inbred dignity, and a thorough gentleman. Once prominent in international circles, he has served his country as he now serves DePauw.

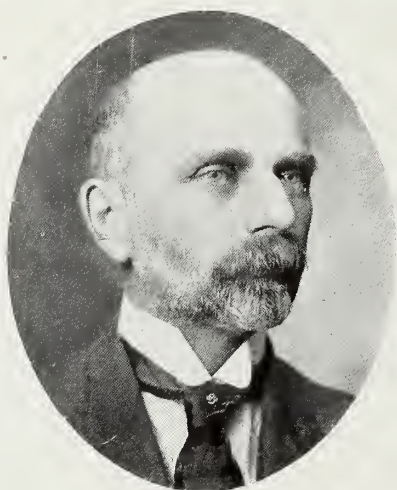

JOSEPH P. NAYLOR, M. S.

Professor of Physics

Student Adrian College; M. S., Indiana University, 1884; Assistant Professor of Physics, Indiana University, 1884-1886; Associate Professor of Physics, Indiana University, 1886-1887; Professor of Physics, Indiana University, 1887-1891; Professor of Physics, DePauw University, 1891.

Devoted to his work—its laws and masters—Prof. Naylor mixes with his lectures, synopses, and famous stories just enough biography of remarkable scientists—"you really ought to know them"—to impart a little of his enthusiasm to those who hear his daily lectures.

HENRY BOYER LONGDEN,
A. M.

Professor of German Language and Literature

A. B., DePauw University, 1881; A. M., DePauw University, 1884; Student of Philology in the Universities of Goettingen and Leipzig, 1888-1890; Professor of German Language and Literature, DePauw University, 1892—; Student of Philology in University of Munich, 1898; Member of the Goethe Gesellschaft of Germany.

Prof. Longden, familiarly known as "Der Kaiser," is one of DePauw's leading idealists. In spite of that fact, however, he can keep to earth and has been found invaluable on many of DePauw's numerous committees. His chapel talks are always features.

WILBUR VINCENT BROWN, Ph. D.

Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Director of McKim Observatory.

Graduate of Stevens Institute of Technology; Assistant in Harvard Observatory; Became member of DePauw faculty in 1885.

Have you noticed that quizzical smile which plays about the corners of his mouth on occasion, and have you noticed that peculiar knowing twinkle in his eyes? Then you have felt that he knows something besides Mathematics. Human nature is his hobby—they say.

WILLIAM MARTIN BLANCHARD,
Ph. D.

Professor of Chemistry

A. B., Randolph-Macon College, 1894;
A. M., Randolph-Macon College, 1897;
Ph.D., Johns Hopkins University, 1900;
Fellow in Chemistry, Johns Hopkins University, 1899-1900; Instructor in Chemistry, Rose-Polytechnic Institute,
1900-1901; Professor of Chemistry, De-
Pauw University, 1901—; Research
Student, Berlin University, 1913-1914.

He thinks a student should develop individual initiative, and conducts his department on that principle. He loves to boost athletics.

ADELBERT FARRINGTON CALDWELL, A. M.

Professor of English Literature

A. B. Colby College, 1891; A. M., 1894; Graduate Student, Balliol College, Oxford, Summer 1895; Professor of English Literature and History, Maine Wesleyan Seminary, 1891-1898; Professor of English Literature, Illinois Wesleyan University, 1898-1903, Graduate Student, Harvard, 1903; Reader in British Museum, Summer 1910; Absent on leave for study and travel in Europe, 1913-1914; Professor of English Literature, DePauw University,
1904—

Being penalized for gaping or entering class late is the terror of Professor Caldwell's students. His delight is in his spring "doomsday" exam books and—love.

NATHANIEL WARING BARNES
A. M.

Professor of English Composition and Rhetoric

A. B., Columbia College, 1903; A. M., Columbia University, 1905; Instructor in English, Ohio Wesleyan University, 1905-1907; Professor of English Composition and Rhetoric, DePauw University, 1907—; Professor of English Composition and Rhetoric, Indiana University, Summer Session, 1914; Lecturer on Business Correspondence and Advertising Technique, University of Chicago, 1914-15.

Professor Barnes writes a System "How-Book" every week end and still finds time to learn every fellow's nickname. When folks talk about the biggest men on the campus, whose name is brought up first?

HARRY BAINBRIDGE GOUGH
A. M.

Professor of Public Speaking and Debate

A. B., Northwestern University, 1900; President Hedding College, 1902-1907; Professor of Public Speaking and Debate, DePauw University, 1907—; A. M., Northwestern University, 1911; Dean of the Summer Session, DePauw University, 1913—.

One of the old-fashioned professors with the bull dog jaw and the big hearts that you read about. He bets cookies and swears by "The Great Horn Spoon."

CECIL CLARE NORTH, D.B., Ph.D.

Professor of Sociology

A. B. University of Nebraska, 1902; Graduate Student Yale University, 1902-1903; D. B., University of Chicago, 1905; Ph. D., University of Chicago, 1908; Professor of Sociology and Economics, Miami University, 1907-1908; Professor of Sociology, DePauw University, 1908—.

Dr. North has made a name for himself in Sociological circles and is a recognized authority in that connection. His industry and tireless energy accounts for his success.

LISGAR RUSSELL ECKARDT, Ph. D.

Professor of Philosophy

A. B. and Prince of Wales Gold Medal for General Scholarship, Toronto University, 1902; A. M., Boston University, 1907; Ph. D., Boston University, 1911; S. T. B., Boston School of Theology, 1907; Jacob Sleeper Fellowship, Boston School of Theology, with year in Berlin University, 1908; Department of Philosophy, Syracuse University, 1909-1910; Department of Philosophy and Systematic Theology, Iliff School of Theology, Denver, Colorado, 1910-1913. Professor of Philosophy, DePauw University, 1913—

Dr. Eckardt finds time to guide perplexed freshmen besides taking charge of the Philosophy department. A man of extraordinary ability, a deep thinker, and a strong character.

FRANCIS CALVIN TILDEN, A. M.
Professor of Comparative Literature
 Ph. B., DePauw University, 1897; A. B., Harvard University, 1898; A. M., Harvard University, 1899; Professor of English Literature, DePauw University, 1900-1904. Lecturer in Comparative Literature, DePauw University, 1911-1913; Professor of Comparative Literature and Librarian, DePauw University, 1913—

A farmer, lecturer, school teacher, author, newspaper man—and a Democrat. He can read three "Count of Monte Cristo's" and have plenty of time to bed the horse before retiring.

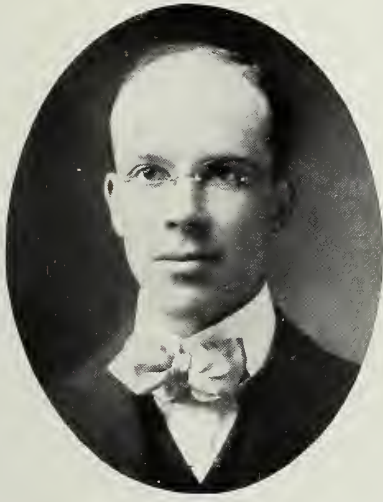

WILLIAM WARREN SWEET, B. D., Ph. D.

Professor of History

A. B. Ohio Wesleyan University, 1902; Teacher of History, Fostoria (Ohio) High School, 1902-1903; B. D., Drew Theological Seminary, 1906; graduate student in history, Columbia University, 1905-1906; A. M., University of Pennsylvania, 1909; Ph. D., University of Pennsylvania, 1912; Assistant Professor of History, Ohio Wesleyan University, 1911-1913; Associate Professor of History, Ohio Wesleyan University, 1913; Professor of History, DePauw University, 1913—

Dr. W. W. Sweet is noted as being one of the squarest profs. on the campus and a man who is not afraid to say what he thinks. His recent book, "Circuit Rider Days in Methodism" is only an example of his progressiveness and ability and is drawing favorable comment from all critics.

FRANK HATCH STREIGHTOFF
Ph. D.

Professor of Economics

A. B., Wesleyan University, 1909, magna cum Laude; M. A., Wesleyan University, 1910; Garth Fellow in Political Economy and Finance, Columbia University, 1910-1911, Honorary Fellow in Political Economy and Finance, Columbia University, 1911-1912; Ph.D., Columbia University, February, 1913. Assistant Health Officer Montclair, New Jersey, 1904-1905; Instructor in Higher Mathematics Bellefonte Academy, 1909-1910; Special Agent, New York State Department of Labor Summer of 1912, Instructor in Economics, DePauw University, 1912-1913; Assistant Professor of Economics, DePauw University, 1913-1914; Professor of Economics DePauw University, 1914—, Director Cost of Living Investigation of the New York State Factory Investigating Commission, 1914.

Professor Streightoff has that quality which is most to be admired in any man, "The Will To Do." He is a firm believer in economics, the Bible, faculty baseball, tennis and fresh air.

RUFUS T. STEPHENSON, Ph. D.

Robert Stockwell Professor of the Greek Languages and Literature

A. B., Drury College, 1899; Professor of Greek and Latin, Kansas Wesleyan University, 1899-1901; in St. Johnsbury (Vt.) Academy, 1901-04; Instructor in Greek and Latin, Washington University (St. Louis), 1904-05; Graduate Student Greek and Latin, Yale, 1905-06; A. M., Yale, 1906; Graduate Student Leland Stanford Junior University and Instructor in Greek, Belmont School, 1906-09; Ph. D., Leland Stanford Junior University, 1909; Professor of Greek and Latin, College of the Pacific, 1909-14; Studied in Athens and Rome, 1911; Professor of Greek, DePauw University, 1914—.

Professor Stephenson, like the "frankelyn" in Chaucer, might be termed "Epicurus' own sounne" so discriminating is his appreciation of all things æsthetic—in fact his enthusiasm has often continued through the time prescribed for Chapel.

EDWIN BRYANT NICHOLS, A. M.

Professor of Romance Languages

A. B., Wesleyan University, 1894; Graduate student, University of Leipzig, and University of Paris, 1894-1895, 1897-1898; Harvard University, 1900-1901, A. M.; Assistant Professor of Modern Languages, University of Maine, 1895-1900; Assistant Professor of Romance Languages, University of Cincinnati, 1901-1903; Professor of Romance Languages, Kenyon College, 1903-1913; Professor of Romance Languages, DePauw University, 1914—.

Professor Nichols has overcome his embarrassment at the novelty of having girls in his classes by playing Sir Galahad for the co-eds to and from class.

DONALD WALTON DAVIS, Ph. D.

Acting Professor of Biology

A. B. Harvard College, 1905; Ph. D., Harvard University, 1913; Assistant in Zoology, University of California, 1905-1906; Naturalist, Marine Biological Laboratory of San Diego, Summer, 1906; Graduate student, Columbia University, 1906-1907; Scientific Assistant, Woods Hole Laboratory, United States Bureau of Fisheries, Summers of 1904, 1905, 1907, 1908, and 1909; Professor of Biology, Sweet Briar College, 1907-1909; Instructor in Zoology, Radcliffe College, 1909-1912; Assistant Professor of Zoology, Clark College, 1912-1914; Acting Professor of Biology, DePauw University, 1914—.

Lookout! He's after all unclassified animals; however, he wants it understood that he will never bother cats.

ORVILLE CLYDE PRATT, Ph. B.

Acting Professor of Education

Ph. B., DePauw University, 1895; Principal High Schools, Danville, Indiana, 1895-1897; Superintendent of Schools, Danville, Indiana, 1897-1907; graduate work, University of Chicago, Summer Sessions, 1897-1907; Superintendent of Schools, Clinton, Indiana, 1907-1911; graduate work, Columbia University, Summer Session, 1908; graduate work, Indiana University, Summer Session, 1910; Instructor in Education, Winona College, Summer Session, 1911; Superintendent of Schools, Wabash, Indiana, 1911-1916; graduate work, University of Chicago, Summer Session, 1914; Acting Professor of Education, DePauw University, 1916—

"He did pretty well when he was taking Faust," said Prof. Longden, speaking of Prof. Pratt. He is one of DePauw's own, but an "awful college flirt" according to Dr. Gobin.

MINNA M. KERN, A. M.

Associate Professor of German

Ph. B., Hillsdale College, 1888; Germany, 1890-1892; Instructor in German, DePauw University, 1897-1905; A. M., DePauw University, 1904; France, Germany, 1905; Assistant Professor of German, DePauw University, 1905-1906; Associate Professor of German, DePauw University, 1906—.

Her sincerity and enthusiasm win the student from the start and there's something about her one cannot forget.

WILLIAM EDWARD SMYTHE
A. M.

Assistant Professor of Education and Psychology

Superintendent of Alamo Township High School, 1902-1903; Graduate of Indiana State Normal College, 1903; Superintendent of Public Schools, Dana, Indiana, 1903-1907; A. B. from Indiana University, 1909; Graduate Student, Indiana University, spring of 1909; Superintendent of Public Schools, Ladoga, Indiana, 1910-1911; Assistant Professor of Methods, Indiana State Normal College, Mid-Spring Terms, 1910, 1911; Instructor in Education and Psychology, DePauw University, 1911-1914, Graduate Student, Columbia University, 1912-1913; Assistant Professor of Education and Psychology, DePauw University, 1914—.

Professor Smythe has perhaps "driven things home" to as many students as any professor on the campus. He is the open Sesame to all would-be teachers.

DADE BEE SHEARER, A. M.

Assistant Professor of Latin

A. B., University of Chicago, 1907; A. M., DePauw University, 1914; Instructor in Latin, DePauw University, 1907-1914; Assistant Professor of Latin, DePauw University, 1914—.

She admires "perfection in details." Students find her friendly and sympathetic. She is the Miss Kern of the Latin Department.

KATHRINE SPRAGUE ALVORD,
A. M.

Dean of Women and Assistant Professor of History.

A. B., University of Michigan, 1893; A. M., Columbia University, 1908; Graduate student, University of Wisconsin, 1909-1910; Cornell University, 1914-1915; Teacher of History, Oshkosh State Normal School, 1897-1907; Instructor in History, Miami University, 1908-1909; Vocational Advisor and Head of Chadbourne Hall, University of Wisconsin, 1909-1914; Dean of Women and Assistant Professor of History, DePauw University, 1915—.

They say that she believes in organized dancing but past records show that she has yet to be completely convinced.

FLORENCE ELIZABETH BYRD

Instructor in Home Economics

Student in Teachers School of Training, Valparaiso University. 1906-1907; Instructor in the Public Schools of Indiana, 1907-1911; Student in Stout Institute, 1911-1913; Supervisor of Domestic Science and Art, Greencastle High School, 1913-1914; Instructor in Domestic Science, Technical and Manual Training High Schools, Indianapolis, 1914-1915; Instructor in Home Economics, DePauw University, 1915—.

A very popular factor in the girl's case. She says, like a true faculty member, that she needs the dough.

LORA ALDIS HUTCHENS, A. B.

Instructor in English Literature

A. B., DePauw University, 1909; Graduate student, University of Chicago, 1914-1915.

Mr. Hutchens divides his time between blowing dust from his glasses and inculcating a proper appreciation of poetry into the student's mind. His illustrations are taken from the work of Wordsworth and the sayings of Helen Leora.

MISS MINA MATTERN, A. B.

Instructor in German

A. B., DePauw University, 1906; Student Berlin University; Student of Phonetics under Vietor, University of Marburg, Summer 1913; Instructor in German, DePauw University, 1906—.

A personality that links up beautifully with Miss Kern's and Prof. Longden's. A beautiful character loved by all.

MARGARET LOUISE KEIPER
A. B.

Instructor in English Composition

A. B., DePauw University, 1912; Graduate student Leland Stanford Junior University, 1912-1913, Instructor in English Composition, DePauw University, 1913—.

A progressive chaperone. Always on time with a bang even after those awful late hours digging in Prose Style.

RUBY SCOTT, A. B.

Instructor in English Composition

A. B., DePauw University, 1914; Instructor in English, Greencastle Academy, 1913-1914, Instructor in English Composition, DePauw University, 1914.

Somehow or other Ruby is always associated with spelling exams and comma sentences when she really is worthy of a greater place.

GEORGE LINDENBURG CLARK
M. S.

Instructor in Chemistry

A. B., DePauw University, 1914; M. S., University of Chicago, August, 1914; Instructor in Chemistry, DePauw University, 1914—.

There is something about Andy that is not altogether scientific—perhaps it's the way he can recall poetry, perhaps it's the way he plays—whatever it is it's wonderfully interesting and delightful. He's sure a good scout.

WILBUR TANDY AYERS, A. M.
Instructor in Latin and Mathematics

A.B., DePauw University, 1886; A. M., DePauw University, 1889; Instructor in Mathematics, DePauw Academy, 1885-1893; Instructor in Latin, DePauw Academy, 1893-1904; Instructor in Latin and Mathematics, DePauw University, 1914—

"Duke" has been the Freshman's friend ever since time was and as long as there are Freshmen he will always pile up friends.

FORREST CLIFFORD BLOOD, A. B.

Instructor in English Composition

A. B., Dartmouth, 1914; Instructor in English, University of Utah, 1914-1915; DePauw University, 1915—.

A newspaper man always has friends, because he always has a new tale to tell and because he knows human nature.

GEORGE MALCALM STEPHENSON, Ph.D.

Instructor in History

S.B., University of Chicago, 1906; A.B., Augustana College, 1910; A.M., Harvard University, 1911; Ph.D., Harvard University, 1914; Instructor in History, University of Minnesota, 1914-15; Instructor in History, DePauw University, 1915—.

He is a thoro student and likes to see others that way. Mr. Stevenson is quiet and reserved.

EDWIN DANIEL HAYWARD, S. B.

Instructor in Mathematics

S.B., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1914; Assistant in Civil Engineering in Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1914-1915; Instructor in Mathematics, DePauw University, 1915—

Every afternoon you can see him and his gang building new walks and calculating the angles and corners on the trunks of the campus trees.

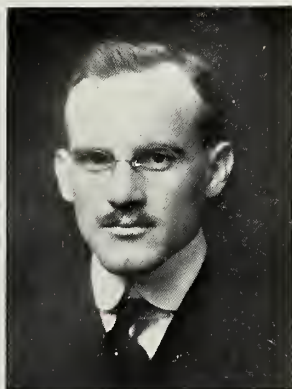

CHARLES LEWIS BRIGHTMAN, Ph.D.

Instructor in Physics

Ph.B., Brown University, 1909; A.M., Brown University, 1909; Ph.D., Clark University, 1915; Assistant in Physics, Wesleyan University, 1909-1910; Instructor in Physics, Mount Holyoke College, 1910-1913; Fellow in Physics, Clark University, 1913-1915; Instructor in Physics, DePauw University, 1915—

His ready wit and his "camaraderie" make him a friend of the students.

ROBERT OTHEO CONANT, A. B.
Instructor in Romance Languages

A. B., Dartmouth College, 1913; Graduate Student, Yale University, 1913-1914; Instructor in French and Spanish, Allegheny College, 1914-1915; Instructor in Romance Languages, DePauw University, 1915—.

A little fellow with a grade book can do wonders with a squad of athletes.

RUTH M. STUCHFIELD

Instructor in Physical Education

Graduate, Ogontz School, Philadelphia; Student, Sargent's School, Cambridge, Massachusetts; Instructor in Physical Education DePauw University, 1915—

She means business when it comes to woman's athletics. She advocates a higher grade of studentship thru greater physical efficiency.

VERA OPAL BOWEN, A. B.
Assistant in Public Speaking

A. B., DePauw University, 1914; Assistant in Public Speaking, DePauw University, 1915—

She was associated with the College Minstrel some way or other but nevertheless she is a good scout.

BENTON A. McGLACHLIN
Assistant in Physical Education

Student in Liberal Arts, later in Medicine, Ohio Wesleyan University, 1912-1916.

ROBERT G. McCUTCHAN

Park College, Mus. Bac., Simpson College, Paris and Berlin. Dean of the Music School; Professor of the History of Music and of Singing. Instructor of Backer University, Kansas, 1904-1910; Berlin 1910; DePauw, 1911—.

For instilling an appreciation for really good music, for creating numerous opportunities for hearing the best talent of the musical world, for making the DePauw School of Music one of the best known schools of it's kind in the country, Dean McCutchan is to be given the credit. Under his directions the University Choir and the University Orchestra have done such splendid work that these two organizations have attained an enviable reputation for music performances. The Dean is unusually popular with the students and no professor is better liked on the Campus.

"Now children, don't tell this to a Daily reporter—if you do, I shall deny that I said it."

VAN DENMAN THOMPSON

Harvard University

Conservatory 1909; Post Graduate work at New England 1910; Associate American Guild of Organists. Professor of Organ, Piano and Composition Director of Music in Southern College 1910, 1911; DePauw 1911—

Professor Thompson has composed a suite of strings, a scherzo for full orchestra, and a Cantata for chorus and orchestra, together with several selections for the organ and piano. He has played three concertos with orchestra in Boston and has given many organ recitals in this and neighboring states. Professor Thompson is the University Organist.

"A musician who really knows something beside music."

HOWARD J. BARNUM

Graduate Ithica Conservatory

Pupil of M. Clarence De Voux Royer of New York and Paris; W. Grant Egbert, former Concert-Meister Sevcic String Orchestra, Prague, Austria; Solo Violinist Patric Conway's Band at Baltimore, Chicago and Atlantic City. Professor of Violin and Harmony. Head of Violin department at West Virginia Wesleyan, Iowa State and DePauw 1910.

Would he sacrifice ten University Choir members for his Cremona? Well, ask him!

ROSA BLACKMORE

Professor of Pianoforte

Four years study with Teich-Muller; Graduate of Music at Leipzig Conservatorium of Music; DePauw 1914—.

Miss Blackmore has appeared in concert with Ellen Beach-Yaw; Henry Verbrugghen, violinist; Madame Edna Thornton, Signor Alberto Randegger and other equally well known artists, in Leipzig, London and other prominent cities of Europe. She has played in cities of Canada and on the Pacific Coast. She has also played in some of the leading clubs of Chicago during the year 1914.

An Englishwoman in the true sense of the word.

MRS. MARTH GEYER DEGNER

Instructor of Singing

Graduate of Music at Chicago Musical College; Hamilton College, Kentucky; Post Graduate work at Chicago Musical College and Berlin, DePauw 1913—.

A chaperone more in demand.

HERBERT M. BAILEY

Graduate of Music at Bethany College Kansas 1908; Mac Burney Studios, Chicago. Professor of Voice-Voice Department, Central College, Iowa 1910-1912; Critic on Music News, Chicago, 1913-1914; DePauw, 1915—.

Vocation—music.

Avocation—gardening.

Will onions grow more quickly when set to music?

JULIA A. DRULEY

Professor of Pianoforte

Pupil of Franz Apil, Detroit Conservatory; Cincinnati College of Music; studied with the late William Sherwood and Madame Bloomfield-Zeissler; spent one year in the Leschetizky School in Vienna, Austria.

Miss Druley has been with the DePauw School of Music since its founding, except for leaves of absence for intervals of study.

A severe task-master and an inspiration for artist pupils.

MILDRED RUTLEDGE

Graduate of DePauw School of Music; Post Graduate work at DePauw, Chicago and New York City. Instructor of Pianoforte, Music, Kindergarten and Normal Methods. DePauw Music School instructor 1906-1911, studied under Emil Liebling at Chicago in 1912 and 1913.

Infinite patience has rewarded her with unusual success.

JESSIE ANDERS PATTERSON

Ohio University

Graduate of Music, Oberlin Conservatory of Music 1912, Cornell University 1915. Instructor of Public School Methods, DePauw, 1912—

"Watch the little things—use your little minds."

MARY HENDERSON, Mus. Bac.,
DePauw School of Music.
Instructor of Pianoforte.

Under the Dean's leadership the DePauw University Orchestra is making a name for itself in the musical circles of Indiana. The Choir takes a trip every week end, eating lots of chicken and candied yams.

DePauw University Orchestra

The excellent music rendered by the University Orchestra has always been a treat to music lovers on the DePauw campus. This organization has been a factor in determining the success of various programs and stunts.

Officers of Administration

SALEM B. TOWN, A.M., M.D., S.T.D.
Financial Sec'y. and Treas.

A. B., Indiana Asbury University, 1866;
A. M., Indiana Asbury University, 1869;
M. D., Northwestern University 1868;
M. D., University of New York, 1871;
Practicing physician, 1871-1875; Pastor and Presiding Elder in Northwest Indiana Conference, 1875-1905; S.T.D., DePauw University, 1890; Financial Secretary and Treasurer, DePauw University, 1905—.

We couldn't say enough for a man who has helped to raise the funds for our new gym when the price of granulated sugar doubles every week-end.

JOSEPH TOMSETT DOBELL, A.M.,
Registrar.

A. B., DePauw University, 1874; A.M.,
DePauw University, 1908; Instructor in Mathematics, DePauw Academy, 1901-
1908; Registrar, 1901—.

"You know what I think about college professors? They're too afraid of the women. I never looked at a woman until I was seventy-five and can't feel right around a girl to this day. I'm not talking to hear myself, I mean every word of it."

MISS GILMORE,
Librarian.

As It Really Is

When the frost is on the pun'kin,
And the fodder's in the shock,
When the price of coal is soaring,
And your overcoat's in hock,
Then they say it's time to celebrate,
To make things bright and gay,
To throw a good sized party,
Have a real Thanksgiving Day.

So you issue invitations
To your cousins, who are frights,
To your ten dyspeptic uncles,
And your nephew who recites;
And you mumur o'er that banquet
Flanked by turkey duck, or hen,
"Thank the Lord for His one blessing,
This darned day's 'most gone again."

Tessie Gobin.

SAFETY FIRST.

The students had just left the tables in the large dining room of Woman's Hall. Mrs. Black in passing down the aisle, between the long rows of tables, noticed that the majority of the plates of butter had not been touched. She saw a leaf of paper stuck in one plate of butter.

The mystery was solved. This is what was written on the slip of paper: "Please don't let this butter stand unhitched."

DIZZY ENGLISH.

Miss Keiper, lecturing to English Comp. Class, "To say the man stood with his feet braced as if he were on a lurching ship makes the picture real."

She should write for the movies.

A K. A. T. INVOCATION.

At the Theta house, girls who come late to meals don't get anything to eat.

"Rach" Williams had hurried from a 11:20 class, but the girls were already eating when she reached the house. She slipped to her place at the table and with bowed head said, "Oh! God! I'm sorry I was late."

She got her meal.

A POOR POLICY.

Oberon: "I want all the English Composition that I can get."

Mr. Blood: "You think it will help you in your life work?"

Obern: "Yes."

Mr. Blood: "What do you intend to do?"

Obern: "Write Life Insurance."

"Frolickin' in the Pool"

AND SHE THOUGHT IT FUNNY.

A student in the chemical laboratory, who had been working with nitric acid, came running to Mr. Clark. She held her hands over her eyes and was screaming.

"Oh, I can't see!"

"What's the matter?" asked Mr. Clark, "chemicals in the eyes?"

"No; I can't see," the girl wailed again.

"Well, what's the matter? I can't do anything for you 'till I know why you can't see."

"Got my eyes shut."

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

Donaldson—"Who's savin' cigarette coupons?" as he pulls two coupons from an empty Omar package.

Williams—"I am."

Donaldson—"Where do you keep them?"

Prof. Brown's Trig. Class: "And you have proved this proposition?" asked Dr. Brown.

"Well," answered "Mickey" Keys, "Proved is rather a strong word; but I can say that I have rendered it highly probable."

We are led to believe that the Conference Committee is proving to be an academic inquisitorial body for the purpose of acquiring lots of valuable information and then saying nothing more about it.

Some wise Senior to a Freshman immediately after a class scrap: "Consider the little green cucumber, my son, it never does its best fighting 'till it's down."

Open House

Can any man forget this treat?
You pump on hands and step on feet
From eight o'clock till half past ten,
And then go marching home again.
That's open house.

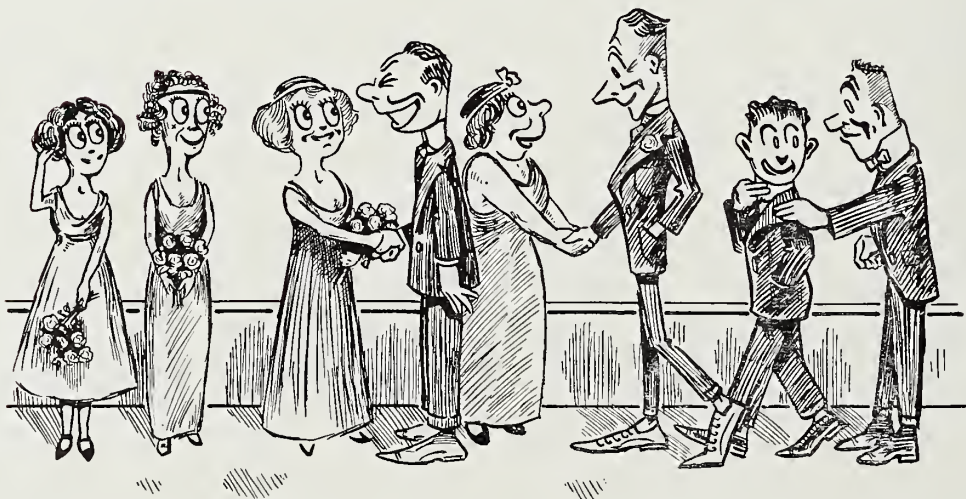

As down the smiling line you go
You start as Mr. So-and-so,
But when at last the end you see,
You've changed from whom you used to be.
That's open house.

The girls hand out an endless flow
Of food and drink until you go,
And then prepare for the coming bunch
By adding water to the punch.
That's open house.

You meet a hundred likely dames
But can't remember any names.
You look into their lovely eyes,
And sneeze, and then apologize.
That's open house.

But when at last you've gone the rounds
And met the queens from several towns,
You find you've walked yourself to death
And talked yourself clear out of breath.
That's open house.

"OPEN - HOUSE"

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER.

Dr. Eckhardt, "I regret that many of my students in psychology take a most contemptible attitude toward memory."

Prof. Longden, "If you had some of the students in my classes, they would be justified."

The man who says "Pres-i-DENT" would feed his profs to the squirrels.

EVERYTHING ARRANGED.

Don Bridge, signing up, "I want to take German. I intend to go abroad after I get married and I want to be able to speak European languages."

Prof. Caldwell, "You'd better take French. It is more universal in Europe than German."

Bridge, "No, I don't need French. You see, Icy is taking that."

ANOTHER FRATERNITY ON THE CAMPUS.

The MIWAY Club.

"We'll say our say
And have our way;
Or there'll be Hell to pay!"

Roll of Members: Deleted by editorial censor.

Do you belong to the above sacred order? Ask yourself. You know. If you don't, ask your room-mate. He knows.

Sarcasm is an excellent sword, but it is a terrible boomerang.

COMPLIMENTARY FANS.

First Fan, "Doodles Harris sure does cover all the territory around second base."

Second Fan, "Yes, but how long does it take him?"

AROMAE.

Prof. Barnes, dipping ever and anon into the Tusitala punch bowl on his desk; Ruby, I'll bet folks come in here tomorrow and wonder what this strange smell is, don't you?

Ruby: Well, it can't smell any more strangely than the Phi Delt themes, they're awful.

BLONDS.

Uriah Smith: I can't see how a fellow can love a blonde. It just beats me.

Don Bridges: Look here, Freshman. I've known Rinies to get a cold bath for saying less than that lots of times.

A gold tooth has spoiled lots of good speeches.

Instinct: That which makes a man on the campus lag thirty feet behind a Florence Hall girl carrying a suit case.

SPEAKING OF HORSES.

On the back row during ex week; Say, Guy; What's Industrial Socialism?

Sh-sh! Curry your poney 'fore you come, feller.

Tell me, you Boob!

Can't do it, Feller, I forgot to throw that question in the buggy, too.

A DIRTY TRICK.

The wind was very strong and girls on the campus were having trouble arresting the aviatational tendencies of their skirts. Here and there, and mostly everywhere, a bunch of men had "just happened" to congregate.

"Tubby" Agnew came "blowing by" one of these groups and yelled, "I wish it was dusty."

"I don't get you, Tubby," one of the fellows answered.

HEARD AT THE GREEKS.

"Who was the girl who came so near fainting when Pence hit Phol in the Wabash game.

Mid Chandler—Casey Hogate.

Singleton: "Did Elbert Hubbard go down on the Lusitania?

Northway: "He's not dead."

Singleton: "Yes, he's dead all right."

Northway: "Then who writes Abe Martin?

STUDY HOURS.

We wonder if Don Sessions has paid the rent for the Sigma Nu house yet? At any rate, we want to ask the Sigma Nus to settle their business matters outside of the library.

UP IN STYLE——

Steven: "What's that? A short skirt?"

Brodie: "No, a long shirt-waist."

BREAK THE CLINCH.

Dr. Eckhardt, in discussing mechanical action, "A young lady sits at a piano, plays off a popular selection and talks to the young gentleman over her shoulder at the same time."

Prof. North (going up to postmaster in a little town.) "Any mail for North?"

Postmaster: "How far north?"

Miss Blodgett—"What's that thing for (indicating the standpipe.)

Sophomore date—"That's the university silo.

(In three reels.)

Featuring RALPH WILLIAMS and the famous DORMITORY GIRLS.

(SCENE ONE.)

Betche Atea Pie House.

Group of pickpockets, housebreakers and second story men seated loosely about the fireplace. Occasionally the sizzle of silaviv Horseshoe is apparent among the mellow, soft coal embers. The smell of smoldering Prince Albert, Tuxedo and other coat tobaccos can be seen in the air. Here and there the dull bull's eye of a carefully rolled cigarette gleams in the thick darkness of the room. Stories of various variety float back and forth through the hazy atmosphere. Suddenly Jim Grouch springs to his feet and, pulling forth his trusty Iver-Johnson, he hammers the hammer. "Someone must die," he hisses between both his teeth. Immediately the assembled gang is moved to exclamations of approval and the street.

(SCENE TWO.)

The Street.

"I shall sacrifice myself," passionately cries Jim Grouch, tearing his hair and handing the crowd his six-shooter and a box of blanks. He then walks bravely to the corner and comes wandering back, nonchalantly approaching the crowd. They fire the blanks at him and after dusting a place on the sidewalk, he lies down to die. The crowd reverently hoist him to their shoulders and with bared heads, they carry him into the Betche Atea Pie House, while big Texas tears splash on the ground and wails of sadness split the air.

(SCENE THREE.)

Room of Betche Atea Pie House.

Jim Grouch is lying in state on the grand piano. Suddenly the telephone bell rings. Jim springs from his high toned position and takes down the receiver. He tells the Rev. Teedle de Dum, D.D., who is at the other end of the wire, that a great man has been shot. "Can I get anything for you?" asks the Rev. "Yes," says Jim, "you can get off the wire."

(SCENE FOUR.)

Second floor of the Betché Atea Pie House.

Ralph Adonis Williams, the hero, clad in light lavender pajamas, is crouching at the top of the stairs, unbeknown to Jim Grouch. He hears the conversation over the 'phone and determines to out-twit, by foul means or fair, Jim, the terrible villain. Nimbly as a nymph he glides down a water spout on the exterior side of the B. A. P. House and boldly knocks at the front door.

(SCENE FIVE.)

Same as scene three.

The crowd is terrified at hearing the knock. They hate knockers. They think it is the Rev. Tee-dle de Dum, D. D. After taking a deep, long and broad breath and expanding his chest six or seven inches, Jim Grouch steps resolutely to the portal and swings it wide, revealing the slim and beautiful Ralph shivering on the doorstep. A loud cry of rage is seen. Jim Grouch registers wrath and takes the fair Ralph firmly between his thumb and index finger. "Expose him," shout the crowd.

(SCENE SIX.)

The Street.

The crowd are carrying Ralph on their shoulders amid exclamations of deep hatred and dire threats. Ralph, still clad in his evening clothes, remonstrates prolificly, occasionally uttering an oath. He tells the crowd where to go but they take him to the big stone, the trysting place of lovers, the stump of many a speech, and now the scene of Ralph's awful episode.

(SCENE SEVEN.)

At the Rock.

The crowd deftly remove the girdings from Ralph's loins. Jim Grouch points toward the Betché Atea Pie House and tells Ralph to hie himself there rapidly in all his dazzling beauty. Ralph pleads for, at least a suit of father Adam's clothes but even that is refused him. Jim Grouch throws Ralph's slippers to him and putting them on, Ralph slips silently away into the night like a raw oyster slips down the throat of a giraffe.

(SCENE EIGHT.)

The Dormitory.

A young lady is standing in a north window taking her fresh air exercise. Suddenly she catches a glimpse of Ralph and screaming, she throws a fit. But her aim is poor and it goes wild. Immediately every window in the north wall contains a feminine head. In the distance Ralph is seen flitting hither and yon trying to find an open door or window in the Betché Atea Pie House. The jaw in every feminine head drops, the eyes blink, the face turns and the curtains are drawn down. The jaws then get into action and continue to work until the wee small hours begin to register on the college clock.

Where Do You Get That Noise?

I went to eat a dormitory meal,
To saw the meat and chisel aged veal.
I had no luck; I lost my poise;
I stormed and swore I'd get my money back.
I asked for it, but they just laughed and snapped—
"Where do you get that noise?"

We took the drummers and we went to see DePauw beat Wabash, like things uster be;
After the game the Wabash boys
Just laughed at us and acted wise
And we had to hear their darn insolent cries—
"Where did you get that noise?"

Two local pros conceived that they were born
To sing of eastern schools from morn 'till morn;
DePanw was Rot, they told the boys.
They crabbed and crabbed, they kicked and criticised
'Till everyone they met turned round and cried—
"Why don't you can that noise?"

MIRAGE

W. B. REILLY

DANVILLE, ILL.

March 20, 1916.

Dr. George R. Grose,
Greencastle, Ind.

DEAR SIR:—

Say, you don't take very good care of your students. do you? I sent my son, Walter, down there to get an education and here he's been hanging around home for the last month because he went to some dance. I don't think my son meant any harm by it as he said they just danced a little when someone started to play the Victrola.

The first thing—he received a black eye in some class fight and it cost me about $15.00 for doctor bills. Then he got in some farmer's buggy and drove around a square because some girls wanted him to and that hit me for about $11.80.

After that you took his "Social Priveleges" away, what ever they are, and I sent him $15.00 for him to get them back from the University. And now he leaves his studies to spend a month at home becaused he danced. That cost me heaviest of all because I saw him every day.

Walter is full of life and ginger and has had more than his share of hard luck this year but if you can't keep him out of trouble —TIE HIM UP.

Yours truly,
W. B. REILLY

PHI KAPPA PSI HOUSE

GREENCASTLE, IND.

March 25, 1916.

Editor of Evansville "Courier"
Evansville, Ind.

DEAR SIR:—

Enclosed find clippings of my recent election of Basket ball Captain at DePauw University. Of course you know this is a big honor and I would like to have a good write-up. (Am also enclosing some other facts about my athletic ability which you can use.)

Would like to have this go in sure as my father is running for Congress, you know, and he can use the publicity. (Be sure to mention that I am the son of my father.)

We did not have an cverly successful season this year because the new gym. wasn't completed but I starred in every game. (Enclosed find money for 50 copies.)

Thanking you in advance, I am,

Yours sincerely,
WINFIELD DENTON

P. S. Write this up big as Dad likes publicity and I can hit him for $15 on this. I need money.

ALARMING!

How would you sound a fire alarm?
How could the inmates tell,
If a deaf asylum caught on fire
Would you ring an old dumb bell?

I wouldn't; I would rush to where
The silent inmate stands,
I'd slap the chap upon the back
And how I'd ring his hands.

CAN YOU SWALLOW THIS?

Shepherd: I was plowing corn one day when a rabbit jumped up in front of me and ran toward a rail fence. A big snake caught it; swallowed it and slid thru the crack in the fence as far as the rabbit would permit. On the other side of the fence it swallowed another rabbit. Of course the snake could neither come nor go. I killed it.

Swintz: (Mouth wide open with attention.) "Funny what a difference two hairs make, isn't it?"

"BOTH HANDS ON THE WHEEL, SIR!"

Ray Orr, in discussing memory, "Why suppose you had been driving over some of the roads near Greencastle. "Suppose you had been driving over much better than others and can more easily recognize landmarks, even though you have been over both roads the same number of times?"

Dr. Eckhardt, "I would say, Mr. Orr, that it depends upon the experience and associations that you have had while driving over those roads."

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE PROCEEDINGS.

First Member: "Can it be that Don Walker is seriously ill this morning?"

Second Vigilante: "Don't know, why?"

First Watcher: "I saw Helen Marriott walk home from class all alone."

FROM BEGINNING TO END.

Prof. Tilden: "What are the two controlling motives in the life of man?" (meaning pleasure and pain.)

Opal Cording (with visions of a P plus): "Life and death."

WHO SAID—SUFFRAGE?

Pecuniary-minded member of Duzer Du's traveling troupe thus unburdened himself at Harmony, "I don't see why we shouldn't get something out of this work. I move that the proceeds of this show go down into our own little jeans."

Charming feminine member of the troupe, unthinkingly, "I second the motion."

WHY?

Does Barnes's class in business writing always convene on the Middle College steps when it is an extremely windy day?

WHY NOT THE MILE?

Customer—"Give me a pound of wien-erwurst."

Tway—"We don't sell them by the pound, madam?"

Customer: "Why-er-er."

Tway: "We sell 'em by the yard."

A RHINY PUN, WE SAY.

E. S. Knauer—"I see where the Germans have imported 3,000,000 watermelons from America."

F. C. Listenfelt—"Ach! Warum?"

A JOYFUL MUSIC CONDUCTOR.

"Bob" Coleman and Rose Singleton came into the Greek's one night with Coleman noisily clanging a bell in his overcoat pocket. Behind them came Olin Rippetoe and Charlotte Wells.

A Theta seated at a nearby table, looked up, listened to the racket a minute and remarked, "What's that, wedding bells?"

A BRIGHT MAN.

LeMaster: "How could your father remember how much he paid for that gold tooth that he got when he was a boy?"

Munson: "He kept it in his head."

HOW ABOUT DEKES?

Sig "Senior"—Sigma Chi at De-Pauw has an illustrious list of alumni."

Spike—"Has it?"

Sig—"Yes, indeed. Many of the greatest men this University ever turned out were Sigs."

HOW CUTTING.

Reitzel: "Drat! Blankety - blank-blank. (Y. M. cuss words).

Bacon (without): "What ho, my lord?"

Reitzel: "What hoe? Gillette, darn it, Gillette."

P. S.

Prof. Barnes in Business Writing Class, as Bill Tway and Lester Brown came in a 10 o'clock class at 10:45, "Here are some examples of post-scripts."

Requests for light work during vacations is pretty near as useless as the other end of a watch chain.

MISTAKEN EMPHASIS.

They were in the parlor alone. He stood watching her, as she sat at the piano and played.

"Please, play some more, he breathed.

"I only know one more piece, but I'll play that and then I'll quit." She strummed the air through and then murmured, "Now my entire repertoire is finished."

"Oh, thanks," he said.

LONGDEN VS. CALDWELL.

Information at hand: "Kaiser" Longden is decidedly pro-German (Of course, you wouldn't have guessed it). Adelbert F. Caldwell, head of the department of ENGLISH literature, is as decidedly anti-German.

Joke Proper: "Kaiser" and Adelbert were reading of the fall of Warsaw.

Longden, gloatingly, "There, what did I tell you, Caldwell. There goes you're old ball game!"

Caldwell, nothing daunted, "England is bound to win." Then with a burst of enthusiasm, "God Save the King!"

Longden, calmly, "He's the only one who can."

MIRAGE

PHI GAMMA DELTA HOUSE GREENCASTLE, IND.

February 30th, 1916.

DEAR PAPA:-

Have been too busy with my work lately to write but finally found a few minutes time. (It seems like the better you get in your courses, the more the professors expect of you. I have extra assignments continually piled on me, in fact more than any one in the class.) I am glad to work overtime tho as I realize my opportunities in getting an education.

My religious life is not being neglected tho, Father. Along with my studies, I have found time to attend all religious services regularly, In fact, I am one of the men who were instrumental in getting Dean Burney of the Boston Theological Seminary here to talk. I just got my money, I know, but as I told Dr. Grose, I didn't think you would begrudge $10.00 for such a good cause. Of course, such a big man as my friend Mr. Burney is, costs money, and a number of us had to work hard to get him here.

Let me get the money from you by the next mail as I told Dr. Grose I would pay him before the next week-end.

Your loving son,
RAY D. GRIMES.

BETA THETA PI HOUSE GREENCASTLE, IND.

February 10th, 1916.

DEAR DAD:-

I know you think I have been spending an awful lot of money lately but all the prices have gone up around here on account of the war. It costs money to get an education now, all right, but believe me Dad, it is worth it. (It seems like in spite of my economy I have expenses continually coming up.)

You know, all the men from the University of Toronto have gone to fight for England and the Beta chapter up there is in very bad financial straits. They have a big house and have been running it for the last year and a half with only a few men. They are $5000 in debt and so in accordance with true brotherly spirit every man in the chapter is called on for $15.00 by the National Treasurer.

I'm sorry this came up along with these other expenses but I must have the money by the end of the week. Am still working hard on my studies.

Best to all,
MORTON C. PARRETT.

CRIB! CRIB! CRIB!

Crib! Crib! Crib!
At the top of thy speed. O see!
If the pros were not here, I'd utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

Oh well for the Phi Bet lad
That he shouts on his way to the quiz,
Oh well for the man who can bluff
For he knows that an A is his.

And the poor blockheads go on
And crib and crab and cheat;
But oh, for the touch of a reining hand
On the ponies under the seat!

Crib! Crib! Crib!
At the top of thy speed. O see!
But the tender grace of a lost P +
Will never come back to me.

A BARREL OF TROUBLE.

The One Who Was—Vesuvius is well named; she has a disposition like a crater.

The One Who Is—What did she do, box your ears?

Prof. Nichols: Mr. Watson, did you prepare for this examination?

Enie: Yes, sir; I put on a linen collar.

The most remarkable thing about the grippe epidemic was the emunity of the profs.

ANY STOCK FOR SALE.

She—"So they have gone into a partnership? What do they call the firm?"

He—"The Stonewall Holding Company."

SOUR GRAPES.

First Upper Classman: "I wish we could have pledged Clarice. She was a fine girl and would have made a dandy Eta Nu."

Second Upper Classman—"She was awfully pretty, too. And such a suit of hair!"

First Upper Classman—"She could sit on it!"

Miss Killjoy: "Yes, when she took it off!"

"I DON'T WANT TO SEEM BOASTFUL."

"Good Folks" Gough, becoming riled at some inattentive students, "How do you expect to get anything out of this course when you come to class and hear nothing?"

Student: "We listen, sir."

Dick Denman: "Why all the toots, Jimmie, right here in front of the Theta House?"

Jimmy Biddles: "Easy, feller, my girl's middle name is 'Tootes.'"

A YEAR OLD, BUT GOOD ENOUGH TO KEEP.

Prof. Davis in Biology, "Miss Rehm, what is a caterpillar?"

Freda, "Why—er—, mostly just skin and squish."

Es Summers' favorite tune—"If you walk in your sleep, don't fall down the stairs."

RAY ORR'S IDEA OF HEAVEN.

"I 'spose there's a lot o' gold brick buildin's and that there'll be a bunch o' angels, strummin' on harps and floppin' around."

LOOK OUT, DICK!

Freda Rehm, in Walter Allen's, "Let's get weighed."

Esse Summers, "Well, I don't know about getting Wade, but I would like to get Dick."

ALLEVIATING THE DISAPPOINTMENT.

Wade Emison called up a certain member of Kappa Alpha Theta and asked for a date.

"I am awfully sorry, but I have a date for that night," the Theta told him.

In a soothing voice Wade answered, "Oh! that's all right; I'll call up for another date sometime."

STRAIGHT FROM THE HEART—OR STOMACH.

"Sandy" Chandler, looking at Florence Bogle, "Gee, but I do like Southern cooking!"

WHO ARE THE MEN, GIRLS?

And this is what Hazel Rubush and Elsie Smith asked the Indianapolis News. (Questions and Answers Department.)

DePauw Student: "Please tell us where we should write to obtain particulars about Government Land?"

A BLOW FROM VERDANCY.

Albert "Doc" Welch: "Do you Betas live in all that house, or rent part of it?"

STONE WALL STUFF.

Sisson: "My love for you is like the deep, blue sea."

Fair One: "And I take it with the corresponding amount of salt!"

Next to a post office pen, I know nothing so useless as a request from the president's chair for lighter class room work special occasions.

ONE OF BOB'S ADHERENTS?

Enid Vandever, gushingly, "Oh, Joe, I just love to eat here at Walter Allen's. It's so nice!"

Joe Meredith, shifted uneasily, or rather tried to shift on his chair. The liberal coating of chocolate which the "service" men had failed to wipe off the chair hampered his free movement. Suddenly his face brightened, and he said, "Yes, Enid, I myself am stuck on this place."

Bill Tway to Wallace Welch: "Welch, you're sort of a rare bit, aren't you?"

VAN ARSDEL OF GREENCASTLE.

Daily Reporter calls up Sigma Nu House, "Say, where does that pledge of yours, Van Arsdel, live?"

Sigma Nu, "Don't know. Wait, I'll ask."

(Business of Sigma Nu asking other Sigma Nus.) Returns to the 'phone, "Nobody down here seems to know."

DISCRETION, THE BETTER PART OF VALOR.

Marjorie Campbell was trying to navigate against a strong wind. Behind her "Jack" Jackson was walking. She turned around and said, "I think I'll wait for you, Jack."

YOU'RE RIGHT, MARY, SAMPSON'S DEAD.

Theta, "Where you goin', Mary?"
Mary Weik, "Down town."

Theta, "You're not goin' down town at this time of the night alone, are you? Aren't you afraid of robbers?"

Mary, "I'd like to see someone try to hold me up!"

CHECKS ON THE FIRST OF THE MONTH.

Prof. Barnes, meeting Chandler and Wylie on campus day after Duzer Du play, "The Servant in the House," "Chandler, I want to compliment you on your work last night. It was superb."

Wylie, "Well, better buy us a drink on that," (meaning Chandler.)

Prof. Barnes, thinking Wylie nominated him, "Well, eh,—er—I'm afraid you'll have to wait 'till some other time, Mac."

PAY AS YOU EAT, PLEASE.

Ruth Fraley, as a Methodist,
Was entirely innocent
That every day the Christian Church
Broke bread in sacrament.

When Ruth went visiting one day
Within the Christian church,
The usher passed his tray about
And Ruth was in the lurch.

The morning offering she thought,
Would now be taken up,
And so she leaned way out and dropped
Her money in the cup.

The usher smiled at the money's ring,
And quickly went his way.
Later Ruth learned that it had been
Communion bread upon the tray.

EUCHERED!

To either eat or sit at cards
He rated as divine.
So when the youth was asked one day
To Prexy's—there to dine,
He dolled up in his brother's best,
From head to trousered shanks.
But appetite he lost when Grose
Just said, "Won't you give thanks?"
The boy was flustered nigh onto death,
He gasped and caught his breath,
Became confused, looked at his glass
And groaned—"Ye Gods! I pass!"

A SAD SAD TALE.

A girl stood in the pale moonlight,
A man stood at her side,
Above them loomed a fire escape;
The girl looked up and sighed.

"I've had a lovely time," she said.
"And so have I," said he.
And then he did the fireman act
With much alacrity.

He helped her up the ladder steep,
And made his fond adieu.
And then he raised the window up
And shoved the maiden through.

He softly climbed the ladder down,
Now that his girl was in.
But at the foot Dean Alvord stood
And waved a rolling-pin.

She made it cleave the air and crack
His unsuspecting head.
And then she left him there to die,
And stalked away to bed.

MORAL

E'en though you love a maiden fair,
Be wise like other men,
And get her back to Woman's Hall
Before the stroke of ten.

IT CAN'T BE DONE.

Freshman O'Brien: "What are you trying to tell me, anyway?" objecting to Prof. Blood's suggestion of defects in his debate speech.

Mr. Blood, "My dear fellow, I haven't the presumption to try to tell you anything."

REHM—JACKSON?

"Wade" Emison, who sat just behind Freda Rehm in "Social Ideals" the first semester, was talking and laughing with said young lady.

"Little Jack" Jackson, after watching the performance for some time, finally announced from a distance of some eight chairs,

"Hey, Wade, you'll have to cut that out; she's my girl."

GETTING UP IN THE WORLD, PUT?

"Put" Tucker, '14, journeyed down to Rushville for his vacation after a year's work as a reporter on the New York World. The little six-year-old neighbor boy was duly impressed when he had persuaded "Put" to tell him all about the World.

"Yes, it has the largest circulation and is the biggest paper in New York," Put was saying.

"And you work on it?"

"Yes," Put answered.

"Well, do you work at the paper or pass 'em?"

SANITATION.

Customer: Say, Fred, take your fingers out of that bowl of soup."

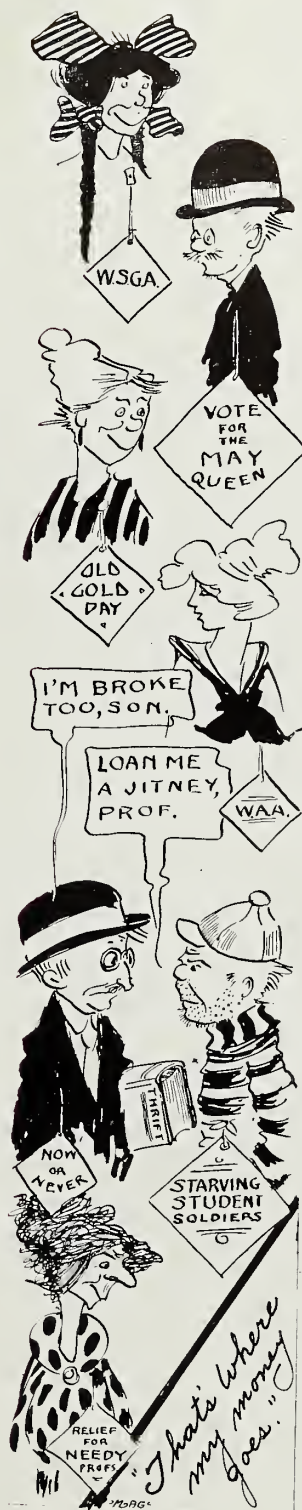

Fred: "That's all right. It ain't hot."

TERSE AND TO THE POINT.

L'ENVOI.

The ones who think these jokes are poor
Would straightway change their views,
Could they compare the ones we print
With those that we refuse.

Come In, Raffles!

Someone had told "Tubby" Agnew all about the attempted robbery of a woman member of the faculty last fall.

"It wouldn't have done that thief any good to break into the Alpha Phi house," Tubby said.

"Why wouldn't it?" her companion asked.

"Only thing he could have taken was a bath."

AN INTERRUPTED COURTSHIP.

Miss Hodkin: "Mr. Dobie, what are my grades?"

Dobie: "I don't know, but I think that you are all right. I think that you are one of my little girls." (sweetly cooing, oh, golly!)

Miss Hodkins: "My! I do hope I am!"

Too much for Jimmie Biddles, an innocent bystander. Jimmie croaks and hides his face while Dobie holds the girl's hand for some time.

Finally, Dobbie: "Say, if you fellows can't behave stay out of this office. You're nothing but a set of pig-headed nuisances, anyway."

WRONG STEER, EH?

He had just returned from his "date." Plainly, the world had been cruel and unkind to him. His face was downcast.

"Have a good time?" one of the men around the fire asked.

"Naw," came the answer.

"S'matter? She takin' boxin' lessons?"

"Nope. But her mother sat in the next room all evening."

A LONG, HARD WINTER.

(Wabash, 34; DePauw, 0.)

He had bet his lottom dollar
And he wasn't goin' to holler
Even though he was a pauper and he didn't have a cent.
When he pawned most all his clothes,
The poor boy, he darn near froze;
And so began the winter of his sorry discontent.

DOBELL, PHI BET.

Our own Registrar Dobell was greatly exercised early in the year over scientific troubles. He had asked several people to enlighten him on the subject and finally approached Prof. Naylor, "Say, Joey, what in the dickens is the specific gravity of water?"

Gently Prof. Naylor explained that the specific gravity of a solid or liquid was determined by the weight of an equal quantity of ——— water.

UNCONSCIOUS WIT?

Prof. E. B. Nichols, in chapel address, "It is said that the world is half full of sleepers, and I believe that this is true of College life and DePauw."

We believe so, too, Doctor, especially after having interviewed some of the freshmen who took the course.

EVER READ LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY?

There was once a Professor in Spanish
With a little mustache—rather tannish

His name was Conant
And when asked what he'd want
Says he—"I want to be mannish!"

NO; IT'S "HAMLET."

In Prof. Longden's room there is a picture of a great German dramatist. Jack Bridges, after looking at the picture for some time, asked, "Who's that, Faust?"

OH, SLOBBERS!

Ride your own pony
Read your own Mirage
Kiss your own girl!
And don't be a sponge!

A MOOTED QUESTION.

The two people in the parlor of the Alpha Phi house had sat for some time without a syllable being uttered by either.

A girl in the other room was heard to remark, "I wonder if Silence and Northway constitute true love?"

THE INSPIRED QUESTION.

The thermometer registered about twelve degrees below zero. And here is the dialogue that was overheard when part of the Alpha Phi sorority was retiring.

"Why do you wear your sweater over your 'Pajams?'"

"Oh," (shivering) "I don't get enough good out of it in the day time."

NO "COMEBACK" FOR HIM.

Prof. Clark, as he stands talking with Miss Stutchfield at the Vandalia Station, "Did you buy a round-trip ticket?"

Miss Stuckfield, "No."

Prof. Clark, "You are coming back, too?" (two.)

Miss S—, "Maybe I can come back one."

The Starr Piano Co.

FOR half a century the STARR PIANO has been watched over, corrected and developed until it stands today, an instrument of wonderful tone, of graceful proportions and of artistic finish—a musical masterpiece of ultra-superiority throughout.

The STARR PHONOGRAPH embodies all those qualities which have achieved for STARR PIANOS such a place in the musical world. The wealth of richness, sweetness and purity of this new phonograph's tone results from a strict observance of every principle of tone building. The STARR not only plays STARR DISC RECORDS but every other make as well.

In STARR-MADE MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, tone is the point of distinction which has given them such prestige. An appreciation of real refinement in a work of art has resulted in the great demand for STARR PRODUCTS. That is why there are among the 150,000 satisfied purchasers of STARR PIANOS and PHONOGRAPHS, 500 educational institutions for THOSE WHO KNOW INVARIABLY PREFER THE BEST.

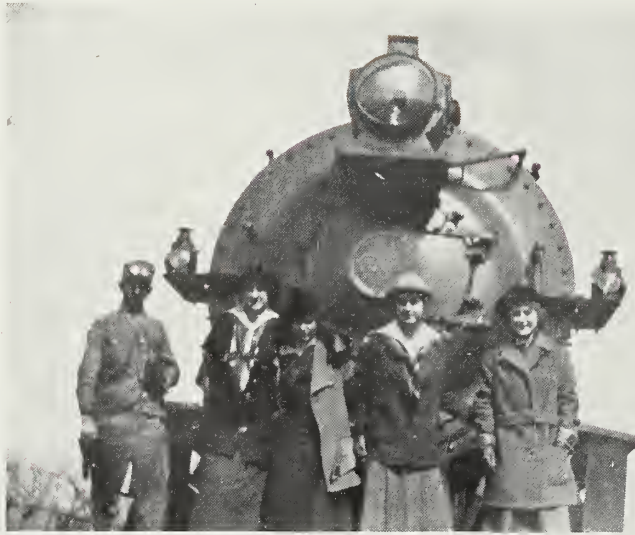

A beautifully illustrated catalog of either our splendid line of Grand and Upright Pianos, Player Pianos, or Phonographs will be gladly mailed upon request.

GIVE 'EM A CHANCE, COLONEL.

Colonel J. Riley Weaver took unfair advantage of his class in Theory of State recently and asked this question in an exam, "Can you give all the advantages and disadvantages of socialism?" And every student answered, "Yes, sir."

HOW ABOUT SEARS & ROEBUCK?

Dean McCutchan, "I've seen all the stage's best comedians, Weber & Fields, Eddie Foy and the tribe, Honey Boy Evans and all the rest, but Montgomery & Ward have them all backed off the boards."

IN NIGGER HEAVEN.

Pete Parrett was explaining to Nina McNees that he couldn't get any seats for "The Ziegfield Follies" except some in the first balcony.

"Yes, we got to sit in the roost. And say, you want to wear a short skirt for the fellows chew up there, you know."

BEFORE HE RESIGNED.

Son: "Who would succeed President Wilson if he were to die, father?"

Father: "Vice-President Marshall."

Son: "And if Marshall died, would Bryan succeed him?"

Father: "Yes."

Son: "Well, father, who would succeed if Bryan died?"

Father: "The United States, my son."

Father, "I cannot find any old clothes to put on the scare-crow."

Mother, "You might use that junior hat John brought home from DePauw."

Father, "Good gracious, Maw, I'm only trying to scare the birds, not to make them laugh themselves to death."

NOT AGES, BUT FOOT SIZES.

Hazel Brown, freshman, read in the column of personals in the DePauw Daily, that "Helen" Marx, '19, spent the week end at her home in Claraville.

"Gee, but I'd hate to be bawled out that way. I don't think it's right for them to put the age after every girl's name."

SHARPENED TACKS.

"Pete" Parrott had "cut" a date with Nina McNees to go to Indianapolis and see "It Pays to Advertise."

He was trying to patch it up, but "it" wouldn't patch. Finally he ended matters with this delicate bit of diplomacy: "Yes, indeed, I enjoyed the show. If it ever comes to Winchester you sure want to see it."

HE UNDERSTOOD.

Freda: "Do you get me?"

Jack: "I hope so. You've cost the old man a hek of a lot of money."

THE NERVE OF IT, PROFESSOR!

"Prince Albert" Welch—"The truth about the discussion is this," and Albert proceeded to settle the argument.

Prof. Tilden, "Mr. Welch, I fear that you are mistaken on that point."

Prince, "You don't mean you disagree with me, do you?"

TWO ARMS, THIS SEASON.

Artie Dunn was standing in the middle of a ring of co-eds who were handing out sympathy stuff by the yard. Artie was going big until Mary Clippingier happened by.

"Artie, you are sort of a stranger out at our house. We don't see very much of you any more.

"Yes, I am Mary, but I'm an invalid."

"But Artie, you'll be sure and come out when your arm gets well, won't you?"

IN MEMORIAM.

The saddest word of tongue or pen
Is not—"It might have been;"
There are four other words, my boy
That rob the world of joy—
The night was gay, the wine had flowed,

Next day the joy still showed
'Till Prexy your zig-zag path waylaid
And said, "You might have stayed."

Engravings for School Publications

— A SPECIALTY —

AN ANNUAL does not get itself out. It is two or three times harder than it looks. It makes no difference whether it is a little thin high school annual, or a big university year book as heavy as a paving brick, it is a job of a thousand details, and the funny thing about it is that nine hundred of them are unlooked for.

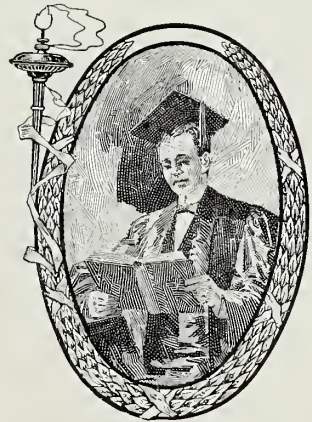

Your first step, then, is to call in the assistance of a reliable engraver, and let him help you plan your book. The sooner you are entitled to interested advice on a subject involving so many technical details, the more rapid and effective will be your progress.

Write for our proposition.
